THE $700,000 LOAN RENEWED BY BANK

Bonds Signed by All Members of the Municipal Council Except Alderman Barrett

Lowell's $700,000 loan has been renewed by the First National Bank of Boston and the bonds have been signed by four members of the municipal council. Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett has not signed the bonds and says he does not intend to. The renewal of the note is in accordance with an order passed at a recent meeting of the municipal council. Mr. Barrett was in Baltimore at the time that the order was adopted by the council.

In his argument in the Siles hearing, so-called, Mr. Barrett said that the commissioner who would vote to apply any part of the $700,000 to the payment of the temporary loan for 1911 would be doing an illegal act, an act that would not only disqualify him for office but would also subject him to a fine of $1000. Mr. Barrett contends that money borrowed in anticipation of the taxes cannot be used for any purpose other than to defray the current expenses of the year in which it is borrowed, and, pursuing that line of reasoning, the $700,000 borrowed in anticipation of the taxes of 1912 could not legally be applied to the temporary loan of 1911.

There are others, and some are lawyers, who differ with Mr. Barrett, and it is very evident that his colleagues on the board do not agree with him. It is very evident that he has voted to renew the $700,000 loan.

In conversation today with the city hall reporter for The Sun, Mr. Barrett said he was not aware that the $700,000 loan had been renewed. Members of the municipal council have had several conferences with Cashier Olson of the First National bank of Boston before and since the council voted to borrow the $700,000.

Commissioner Barrett went to Boston last week with other members of the municipal council. They went to Boston in Commissioner Brown's unlettered automobile and smashed into the fall end of a taxi in Boston, but that little run in was not what prevented Mr. Barrett from conferring with the bank officials as did his brother members. He said he had talked with Mr. Olson before and had had it out with him.

"Yes, I went to Boston in the automobile, simply for the sake of the ride," said Mr. Barrett. "I remained outside and ate peaches and smoked cigars while the others were in the bank. I was not admitted as to the result of their conference and if the loan has been renewed it is news to me."

"Is it necessary that you should sign the bonds in order to make valid the transaction?" asked the reporter.

"No, I believe the signatures of four members are sufficient," said Mr. Barrett.

Another Boston Conference

Members of the municipal council and City Treasurer Edles will go to Boston within a few days to confer with a special recess committee of the legislature who are considering recommendations for a legislative act.

OPERATIVES IN NEW BEDFORD MILLS NOT MOLESTED---STRIKERS TOLD

TO BE ORDERLY

NEW BEDFORD, July 18.—Quiet prevailed in this city during the early hours today, the fourth day of the strike and lockout of more than 13,000 operatives in 12 of the 19 cloth mills of New Bedford. Crowds of strikers and sympathizers gathered in the vicinity of the seven mills which have not been affected by the weavers' strike for the abolition of the grading system. The police, however, controlled the situation and the strikers made no efforts to induce the workers to remain away from the mills.

Several hundred persons gathered near the Butler mill, the scene of yesterday's disturbances. A large squad of police patrolled that section and did not allow the strikers to gather near the mill gates. After the mill machinery was set in motion the officers dispersed the crowd. Many of the men and women departed toward the Industrial Workers of the World headquarters to attend an open air meeting. At the Whitman mill there was a gathering of strikers but the police scattered the crowd.

The executive board of the weavers' union met and discussed the developments of the strike. Weavers' headquarters were established in the north and south end sections of this city for the enrollment of strikers.

About 1000 persons attended the open air meeting of the Industrial Workers of the World and listened to addresses by Graver H. Perry and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, national organizers. Perry said that the members of the union have been warned against using violence while on the picket lines. He announced that attorneys have been engaged to defend the Industrial Workers who have been arrested, and said that members of the union arrested were put in jail instead of paying fines.

Antonio De Almeida, who was arrested yesterday for obstructing the sidewalk near the Butler mill, was found guilty by Judge Miliken in the district court. De Almeida appealed from a $20 fine.

None of the operatives at work were molested during the noon hour. The crowd that assembled near the Butler mill was slow in dispersing but there was no indication of disorder.

All Industrial Workers of the World in this city are on strike, according to Organizer Perry. He estimated the number at several thousand.

An appeal for funds for the aid of the strikers will be sent to all affiliated unions throughout New England by the United Textile Workers. It is proposed to ask the loomfixers now working to aid the strikers.

MURDERER A SUICIDE SWARTZ FOUND DEAD

He Left a Note Saying He Killed the Conners Girl and Was Insane

NEW YORK, July 18.—The body of Nathan Swartz, whose father informed the police that his son was the slayer of 12-year-old Julia Conners, was found this morning on the fourth floor of a tenement house on Christie street. Swartz had committed suicide by inhaling gas. The body was identified by Detective Brennan.

Swartz had hired the room eight days ago under the name of Max Hirszkowitz from Max Kaplan. Early today Kaplan smelled gas. On investigation he found Swartz in bed with the end of a gas tube that ran from the middle of the ceiling tied to his mouth. Examination by a hospital physician showed the man was dead.

Written in lead pencil on his collar were the words: "I am guilty and insane. Caused by the beautiful makeup of women, which has made me passionate."

There were several pieces of newspaper lying around and on one of these was written the sentence: "I was sorry the minute after I did it. Sp don't cry for me."

A letter was found addressed to Swartz's mother, in which he confessed his guilt and told her not to cry her eyes out. Later, Philip Swartz, a brother of the slayer of the Conners girl, identified the dead man as his brother.

Only a few days ago Swartz's father informed the police that his son had told him that he had killed the little girl. The father told Swartz that he had better go out and commit suicide. The house in which Swartz took his life is next door to one in which he lived for more than a year and which he left two years ago to go back to his parents.

At that time he posed as a prize fighter and was well known in the neighborhood, yet on his return eight days ago he was unrecognized. That he had followed with intense interest the stories printed in the newspapers about his crime was made plain by the piles of newspapers found in his room. Before he lay down in his bed with the end of the gas tube in his mouth he spread these papers around him, so that he could see pictures of himself and of his victim on all sides.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A circumstantial story of an attempt on the life of President Taft is being denied vigorously early today by White House officials and Chief Wilkie of the secret service.

It was said that a bomb wrapped in a package was received late yesterday at the executive offices and placed upon the desk of Sherman Allen, one of the White House assistant secretaries who has just been appointed assistant secretary of the treasury. The package was of course, intended for the president but packages and letters never reach him without first passing through the hands of a secretary and Mr. Allen opened it.

The report was that as Mr. Allen unwrapped the package he discovered an infernal machine, said to have been charged with dynamite and with fuses a-sputtering, which he quickly extinguished with his hands.

It has always been the policy of the secret service and White House officers to deny publicly to any incident which savors of an attempt at violence upon the president. Though the story, as published, is very circumstantial, it is pronounced as wholly unfounded.

MAN STOLE BICYCLE AND WAS ARRESTED

He Was Caught by Lieut. Martin Maher

Lieut. Martin Maher arrested Charles Brown of Haverhill in Middlesex street yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having stolen a bicycle, and after being brought to the police station and put through a rigid examination he confessed that he had stolen the bicycle in Tilton, N. H.

Lieut. Maher was passing through Middlesex street when his attention was attracted to the man who was trying to sell the machine to a second hand dealer. The officer questioned Brown and learned that the latter wanted to dispose of the wheel for $15. The man said that the bicycle belonged to him and that he resided at 120 1/2 13th street in this city, but an investigation showed that there is no such a number on the street.

Finally after attempting to answer a cross fire of questions he broke down and confessed that his name was Charles Brown, 30 years of age, and resided in Haverhill. He said he went through New Hampshire in search of work and stole the bicycle at Tilton and came to this city to dispose of it.

Brown was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a bicycle valued at $25 from an unknown person and entered a plea of guilty, but at the request of Deputy Downey the case was continued until tomorrow morning in order that the police may make further investigation.

Terry McGovern and his terrors from Lynn came to Lowell this morning, with the determination of getting back at the Grays for the humiliating whitewashing that they received from the champs at their burg yesterday. A double header was scheduled between the two teams, but the weather man was not consulted and hence he got a trifle offended, and just for that the clouds burst and rain descended heavily upon the diamond, and saturated the place. Manager Gray was despondent of playing off one game if possible and held the men at the office until all chances of a contest were dispelled.

The game was called off at 1.35. The team is going at then a fast clip at the present time that he would like to have accommodated Terry this afternoon and sent his braves back to the coast, sorry they came.

Tomorrow, Lowell will meet Worcester at Spalding park and will entertain the same busters on Saturday and the local men are confident that they will move up considerably as a result of their conflicts with Burketts crew.

MAN WAS FINED $5 ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Man Who Stole Mazda
Light Fined $7

Thomas Pepin, who a month ago was found guilty of assault and battery on Wilfred Aubrey, appeared in police court this morning for sentence, and Judge Pickman imposed a fine of $5. Pepin, whose right name is Papus and who works in Boston, came to this city about a month ago and found Aubrey in company with his wife and assaulted him. He was brought into court and while the judge said he would have to find Pepin guilty, he sympathized with the defendant and continued the case for a month. Several weeks ago Aubrey and Mrs. Pepin were brought before the court and found guilty of adultery and at the present time Aubrey and Mrs. Pepin are serving sentences of three months in the Lowell jail.

Second Charge of Larceny

Wilfred Champagne, who was found guilty of stealing a pair of shoes from one Joseph Maynard, an employee of the Tremont & Suffolk mills, and yesterday was fined $5, was in court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a Mazda light, the property of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. He entered a plea of guilty and the court imposed a fine of $7.

Drunken Offenders

Josephine Mitchell and Thomas Graham, charged with drunkenness, were each fined $5.

FATHER AND SON

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM
SERIOUS INJURY

Joseph Chelcine and his son, Elphège, had a narrow escape from being badly hurt yesterday when the staging on which they were working on a house at Tyler Park collapsed. They were working on the roof of the house when suddenly the staging gave away and both were precipitated to the ground, a distance of about 30 feet.

Mr. Chelcine fell to the piazza on the first floor and struck on his back, but outside of a bad shaking up, he was none the worse after his fall. His son, however, fell to the ground, striking on his stomach and face, and broke two front teeth. The young man was removed to his home, 273 West Sixth street, in a buggy, and outside of the loss of his teeth and a bad shaking up, he was all right.

THE KASINO

The old timers gathered in large numbers on Kasino hill last night, when the Kasino orchestra gave a program of old time melodies. In the crowd were hundreds of the younger generation, who seemed to enjoy the music of 30 or 40 years ago fully as much as their seniors, and the picture presented on the dance floor as the crowd moved in perfect time to the orchestral endearments was one of animation. The cornet soloists, Horace McDaniel and James H. Buckley played several numbers that were duly appreciated. In response to popular demand, the management has decided to continue the "old timers" feature indefinitely, and every Wednesday night, the Kasino orchestra will play the good old tunes for dancing. Meantime, the evening sessions, afternoon and evening, will continue to attract thousands of people, young and old.

CAMPAIGN FUND

REACHED $1,000,000

When Parker Ran, Says
Wm. E. Sheehan

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The democratic campaign fund contained about $1,000,000 when Alton B. Parker ran for president in 1904, according to W. E. Sheehan of New York, who testified today before the senate committee investigating campaign funds.

Mr. Sheehan was then chairman of the democratic national executive committee. Money was sent by the committee, he testified, to Maine, Colorado and Nebraska particularly.

"To Maine, did you say?" asked a senator.

"Yes, with very gratifying results to democrats," replied Mr. Sheehan.

Mr. Sheehan assured the committee that sums sent to Maine, Colorado and Nebraska were not large. He said he remembered August Belmont was a large contributor that year, and Senator Oliver asked if Thomas F. Ryan was also a contributor in the same campaign. The witness responded that he was.

LIVELY CONTESTS FOR A. O. H. OFFICES

Insurance Feature Great Topic of Discussion

(Special to The Sun)

CHICAGO, July 18.—Over 1000 delegates to the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians were welcomed at a reception held in the red room of the Hotel La Salle. Delegates were present from Canada, Europe and one from the Philippine Islands. Australia was represented by a visiting brother of the order from the Antipodes. On Tuesday morning the delegates were driven from the La Salle hotel to the Holy Name cathedral where Archbishop James B. Quigley conducted pontifical high mass, followed with a sermon by Bishop John P. Carroll of Helena, Montana. After the service at the church the delegates repaired to Emmet hall where the sessions will be held during the week.

The convention was called to order by P. J. Flanagan, chairman of the local arrangements committee who introduced National President James J. Regan. Mr. Regan stated in his opening remarks that the convention proceedings would be devoted strictly to business and not to oratory. The usual credential committee was appointed and the convention adjourned to Wednesday morning. On Wednesday morning all delegates repaired to St. Patrick's church where a requiem mass for the repose of the souls of departed members was offered.

The Ladies' Auxiliary opened their proceedings on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the red room of the La Salle hotel.

Miss Anna C. Mall, national president of the ladies called the assembly to order and immediately proceeded to business. Credential committees were appointed and the ladies wound up their first session by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

On Tuesday evening a reception was tendered to the delegates and their friends at Emmet Memorial hall. The ladies and gentlemen presented a fine appearance. The costumes of the fair sex were most dazzling. On Wednesday evening a banquet was tendered all delegates at the Auditorium hotel. Tonight a five hour cruise on the steamer United States will give the delegates a glimpse of Chicago shore at night. On Friday evening Riverview park will be visited. The convention promises to be most harmonious, several contests will be waged for national honors, particularly for the office of national secretary. Five or six candidates have announced themselves, including P. F. Cannon of Clinton, Massachusetts; Philip Sullivan of Hartford, Conn.; James P. Mord, of Newark, N. J.; James T. McGinnis, of Scranton, Pa.; and James King, of Louisville, Ky.

Regarding the other officers, opposition to the present administration has not yet developed, but there are many murmurs heard around the hotel lobbies. Many complain against the national officers for not carrying out the mandate of the last national convention held at Portland, Oregon, when they were instructed to try and bring about a conference between all Irish societies, to the end, that mud slinging and malicious statements would be stopped regarding Irishmen who represented different opinions upon the Irish question.

No action to this effect was taken. Many asserting that Mr. Regan was controlled by the outside influence of other Irish societies. The Irish Unity proposition will be one of the great questions that will be discussed, as will also be the recommendation of the national board, to have national insurance attached to the order. Every member to be insured, same as the Knights of Columbus and other fraternalities.

The A. O. H. being known as the poor man's organization may be increased by the new feature, as it might be the means of stopping suspensions which is the bane of all fraternalities. While on the other hand it might weaken its influence, all phases of the subject will be discussed, and the majority will decide the feasibility of the question.

Massachusetts is well represented and for brains, ability, integrity and popularity they compare most favorably with the representatives from the various states at the convention.

ENDED HIS LIFE

SALEM MAN WAS TWICE BY HIS FRIENDS

BOSTON, July 18.—Discouraged by ill-health and the twitting of his friends about his recent fine for selling heroin, Charles O. Upton, 25 years old, a drug clerk employed by Thomas P. Nichols, Salem, committed suicide yesterday at his home, 2 St. Peter's Street court, in that city. Medical Examiner Frank S. Atwood did not state the nature of the poison used, although it is thought to have been corrosive sublimate.

Upton, who lived with his mother, Mrs. Ella M. Upton, was summoned into the Salem court recently with other drug clerks, at the instance of the Watch and Ward society, for selling heroin. He was fined $5. The matter preyed on his mind and increased the despondency in health had caused.

He went to his room last evening, took the poison, and then called to his mother. When she ran to his side he said he had poisoned himself because he could not stand it any longer. Police and physicians were notified, but the young man died before assistance could be given.

LAWN PARTY

HELD AT GROUNDS OF HILLSIDE CHURCH

The annual lawn party of the Y. P. S. C. E. was held last night on the grounds of the Hillside church, in Dracut. The affair was very largely attended, and the success of the event was very flattering for the organizers. A burlesque provided a musical program throughout the evening and the booths and tables which had been laid around the grounds did excellent business.

The tables and booths were presided over by the following:

Ice cream, Walter Grant and Miss Laura Tucker; tonic, Mr. and Mrs. William Ryder; candy, Andrew Shanks and Miss Flora Gunther; automobiles, Charles L. Hodge.

The full corps of the society members assisted in the general supervision of the party, and to all much credit is due for the success of the affair.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Leather Workers of America, local No. 3, was held Tuesday night in their hall at 237 Carroll street. The feature of the evening was the installation of the officers who were recently elected, as well as the reading of the report of the delegates who attended the national convention in New York.

The following officers were installed: President, Charles Shanley; to succeed the retiring president, Daniel Healey; vice president, James Brennan; to succeed the retiring vice president, Harry Ross; financial secretary, Cornelius J. Sullivan; recording secretary, William F. Liston; treasurer, George Wesson; board of trustees, Fred Buckley, Charles Burns, Thomas McFadden, John McGuirk. The delegates, James Coleman, Fred Buckley, William Liston and Charles Shanley, submitted their reports, stating the local standing and working conditions in the leather trade industry satisfactory, which was accepted by the union. Several communications were read and proper action taken. President Charles Shanley was elected as a delegate to attend the Massachusetts state branch of the A. F. of L. convention. Refreshments were served.

HOUSEBOAT BURNED FAMILY ESCAPED

All Reached the Shore
in Safety

NEW YORK, July 15.—A houseboat owned by William Frederick of Brooklyn was struck by lightning at its anchorage in Jamaica Bay early today and burned to the water's edge. Frederick, his wife and five children were asleep on board when the bolt came. Their only chance to reach safety was by swimming and the father and a 17-year-old son helped the other children, only one of whom could swim. Mrs. Frederick, almost as good a swimmer as her husband, needed no help. The family had a hard time in the water but all reached shore.

ONE BOY KILLED ANOTHER INJURED

In Auto Accident in Roxbury Last Night

BOSTON, July 15.—One boy was killed and another injured within a space of half an hour as a result of two automobile accidents in Roxbury last night.

Stealing a ride on an inward-bound Roxbury Crossing car on Columbus avenue cost the life of 8-year-old Frank Rebus of 586 Parker street, Roxbury. The boy jumped from the car into the path of an automobile which fractured his skull. He died before he reached the City hospital.

The automobile was owned by Patrick E. Kearney of 611 Washington street, and was operated by William H. Dwyer of 39 Upton street. Dwyer rushed the unconscious boy to the City hospital in the automobile.

THE MORROW JURY

MAY BE ABLE TO RETURN A VERDICT TONIGHT

NEW YORK, July 15.—It was expected today that a verdict might be reached this evening in the case of Mrs. Irene B. Morrow, on trial on a charge of having shot her husband to death on the porch of the Morrow home last December.

While the closing arguments were in progress today, Mrs. Morrow seemed hopeful of acquittal on the ground that Morrow was either murdered by a burglar or committed suicide. It was contended that the motive for her persecution lay in the disclosure to Morrow's relatives after his death that the property of the couple was held in the name of Mrs. Morrow.

DRUGGISTS' OUTING A GREAT SUCCESS

Sports and Dinner Were Greatly Enjoyed

The local druggists who went to Bass Point and Nahant yesterday on their annual outing report that this year's affair was the best in the history of local "drug fraternities." The party included about 100, and after leaving Merrimack square at 11:45, they had no cares and for one day forgot about Lowell's sick people and also the thirsty ones who frequent their establishments.

After dinner, as was stated in yesterday's Sun, the ball game was on. The names of the teams were changed on the trip up the seashore and the warriors went to the diamond as the "Magnesia Sulphates" and the "Cascara Sagrada's," the former under the captaincy of John O'Neil, of Lawrence street, and the latter in charge of Joe Gumb, the clerk at Goodfells. The latter, however, was obliged to take defeat at the hands of the "Mags," the score, when three were declared out in the last of the sixth inning, being 20 to 14. The manager of the winners says that the official scorer was a wee bit off, but Fred Lewis, who held the indicator, would not change his decision, so the game stands.

Many feature plays were pulled off during the game, the most prominent being a remarkable running catch by Bridgeford in left field. Charlie Devno in center field for the "degraded" team pulled a fine catch after three were out in the third inning. He ran in from the center garden, in Ty Cobb fashion and one of the spectators, who wore side combs, gave him a great hand—which he later held.

The game was the most enjoyable number on the program and the winners received a box of cigars. The teams lined up as follows: "Magnesia Sulphates"—O'Neil, p. 3b; O'Dea, 2b; Nelson, cf; Sheridan, 1b; Webster, 2b; Lee, lf; Brennan, cf; Zimmer, rf; Gilchrist, 1b; Bridgeford, cf; "Cascara Sagrada's"—Levine, cf; J. Gumb, p; Calise, 1b; Gumb, 2b; Welch, 3b; Reppelle, ss; Lawrence, lf; Devno, cf; Coggin, lf; Umpire, Fred Lewis. After the game several other highly interesting and amusing sporting events were on the card. The 100 yards dash brought out a big field and it was some exciting heat. Finally, after a great sprint within two dashes of the top T. J. Mack went to the front and won out by a close shave, receiving a Gillette Safety razor. Jim O'Dea, who won a bunch of eggs in last year's outing, came in second and he crowned a pair of cold legs. In the broad jump, Donald Brannelle was there and he carried off first honors, getting a Gillette. Joe Gumb came in second and he received a cold stick rim. A novelty event was introduced, known as the 100 yards backward walk and this was one that met with the approval of everyone in the party. There were numerous entries, but they gradually dropped out—or graduated from the class—but at the finish Allie Levine had his back to the front and just for that he got a gold watch. Charlie Devno was next to fall over the tape and he was presented a gold chain.

After another lunch the members left home, all pronouncing the affair the best ever. The following contributed to the outing: Carter, Carter, Meigs, and Gillman Bros., Gillette Safety razors; Eastern Drug Co., 100 cigars; Davies, Rosa Co., 100 cigars; National Cigar Stand, 100 cigars; R. G. Sullivan, 500 7-10-4; G. C. Prince, National League ball. The executive committee in charge was President, Frank McNabb, Fred Burtt, Jas. Bucklinshaw, Frank Campbell, Wm. Noonan.

The sports committee was as follows: Chas. Noonan, Fred Lewis, Harry Leighton, Chas. Parthenalis, John Chase.

Look better, and saves $5 to $10 a year. Get the "IRONLESS," $1.50.

GIRL INJURED

HER LIFE WAS SAVED BY A POLICEMAN

The Comfort and Economy of Tourist Sleeping Cars In Traveling to the Pacific Coast

I would like to explain to you, just what a Tourist sleeping car is, what conveniences and comforts they have, and how you can save money by joining one of our through parties, which go to the coast every week in one of these cars, escorted by a special conductor employed by the "Burlington Route" to look after your comfort. ## CAMPAIGN WORK BEING ARRANGED

State Committee Not to Take Sides

BOSTON, July 15.—No formal vote was taken at the meeting of the democratic state executive committee yesterday in reference to any candidate seeking the democratic nomination for governor or lieutenant-governor.

It was the first meeting of the working body of the state central committee to lay out the work for the fall campaign. A meeting is to be held every two weeks.

A suggestion was offered, however, that the executive committee and the

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE

In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair. In which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping itching and revivifying the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years and in less than two months after he began its use his head was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich, glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary. For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: 6 ounces of Bay Rum, 6 ounces of Lavender Compound, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and then add the Lavender Compound, shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores gray hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you desire it, perfumed, add one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume. Before publication we presented this prescription at Hall & Lyon Co. Pharmacy, this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

ENGLISH CROOK

PICKED THE POCKET OF A DEPUTY SHERIFF

PITTSFIELD, July 15.—David Wilson, said to be an English crook, who was caught robbing a Hinsdale house and was sentenced to eight months in the house of correction, picked the pocket of Deputy Sheriff Frank White while being taken to the county jail for commitment yesterday.

When Wilson arrived at the jail he returned the deputy's watch to him. He said he wanted to show the officer how easy the trick was done.

LAWN PARTY

HELD ON GROUNDS ADJOINING CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

An enjoyable lawn party was held under the auspices of the Helping Hand society and the Men's league of the Calvary Baptist church last night on the Flint property adjoining the church. The grounds were illuminated by Chinese lanterns and a hurdy-gurdy furnished music. There was a large attendance and the affair proved to be a social as well as a financial success.

During the evening a rope drill was given by girls ranging from six to ten years of age. Little Miss Gladys Hall led the drill. Misses Eleanor Dows and Geneva Charlton had charge, and they were assisted in preparing the little misses for the event, by Mrs. M. E. Sweetser and Mrs. Frank A. Hall. A well patronized feature of the evening was the supper table, presided over by Mrs. J. M. Dows, Mrs. A. H. Maxey and Mrs. T. A. Laporte. Mr. and Mrs. John Charley had charge of the ice cream; Mr. A. W. McQuesten prepared the coffee; there were tonics for sale by Paul McGregor and Ray Page, and J. O. Phinney was the popcorn man. In charge of the flower table were Misses Mattie Eaton and Blanche Hutchins, and home-made candies were dispensed by Mrs. Q. A. Foster and a number of girls.

Shooting of a Gambler by Assassins in Auto Has Aroused New York

NEW YORK, July 18.—The assassination of Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, who had complained to District Attorney Whitman about oppression by members of the police department, has aroused New York more than any crime of violence in years. Rosenthal was shot at 2 a. m. in front of the Hotel Metropole in West 43d street, only a few feet from Broadway, by four men who rode to the scene of the murder in an auto and escaped in the same vehicle. Rosenthal had gone to the Metropole from his home at 104 West 1st street only a short time before the shooting. He had expected some such trouble, and his wife says she begged him to stay at home. Within a few hours after the crime the auto the assassins used had been identified, and Louis Libby, part owner of the vehicle, and William S. Shapiro, the other owner and the chauffeur at the time of the shooting, were arrested.

FIREMAN-KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE

Twenty-one Other Persons Injured

ATLANTIC CITY, July 18.—Capt. Edward Barnett, 40 years old, head of the central fire station, was killed, George Proffitt, chief of the city electric bureau, was knocked unconscious, and a score of firemen were badly shocked at 10 o'clock last night when a lantern in Barnett's hand completed a circuit and sent 5700 volts from an arc light through his own body and into the metal trimmings of a wall 120 feet from the ground. The accident occurred during a fire in city hall.

The fire fighters, who had been following their leader up the steps into the narrow towers, were hurled from their feet, escaping death only because the shock knocked them from the steps to a landing.

Three thousand persons gathered in the street below watching the flames creep around the clock and the small windows, heard the screams of terror from the injured men. There were wild scenes as men fought through the startled throng to gain entrance to the hall and effect a rescue.

It was thought when word reached the street ten minutes later that a platform had collapsed at the top of the tower and plunged the firemen to their deaths below.

Police used their clubs to keep back the crowds, while firemen from the central station, next door to the municipal building, rushed through the entrance and up the stairs.

When they arrived they found Carl Creamer, George Messick, hosemen, lying stunned 30 feet below the roof where, dazed from the shock, they had crawled to escape from the flames that streaked from the top.

Further up on the first landing they found Proffitt gripping the legs of Barnett and trying to drag him from the danger zone. He had pulled the body from the tin covering on which Barnett had been standing when he received the full force of the volts.

HINTS ABOUT HOUSEHOLD

Suggestions as to How to Whiten Clothes

To whiten clothes which have turned a bad color try the following plan: Prepare a solution of pipeclay and warm water and soak them overnight in this. Then wash and boil next day in the usual way, and they will come out looking as fresh and white as when new.

New Blinds
When nailing new blinds on the rollers try nailing a length of tape on to the roller with them. If this is done there is no chance of the blind tearing from the roller.

For Jap Silk
Many people do not know that if Jap silk is stitched with cotton instead of silk, the seams are not so likely to cockle in the wash. This is of great saving when ironing.

To Remove Creases
When clothes have been hanging in the wardrobe for any length of time they are apt to become creased looking. This can be remedied by hanging them in front of the fire for a few minutes, when the creases will vanish.

New Tins
New tinware should be rubbed well all over with lard, heated for a moment in the oven or on top of the range and then well wiped. This treated in this way seldom, if ever, tarnish.

CURE FOR HEADACHE
Headache is often the result of indigestion. No woman, however, perfect of feature, can be truly beautiful when a racking pain draws her face full of fine lines and dulls the expression of the eyes. The next time you are suffering with headache try drinking a half glass of cold water into which has been squeezed the juice of half a lemon and a half teaspoonful of soda. The drink is not unpleasant.

MUSLINS ARE POPULAR
There is a place in the summer toilet year after year for spotted muslin. Here we have a fabric that has never been so great a favorite among women that it became commonplace in their estimation. Modest and demure it is, but withal very charming.

There are dainty white muslins with colored rosebuds and green leaves scattered over the surface, and there are others spotted with white that are given colored borders in the delicate summer shades that are always delightful, the pale blue, the clear pink, the soft mauve and green shades.

TAN SHOES IN VOGUE
Tan shoes are again in fashion. That light putty color which was so much in fashion in France last winter and which one feared would become fashionable here is fortunately missing. All the Russian tans are used in pumps, in oxfords and in two eyelet ties. Buckles still take precedence over ribbons, except in the oxford and on pumps.

True, a wide number of women prefer the more or less huge buckle on their pumps, but you will notice that the well dressed woman who is smartly turned out in every detail will wear the plain pump with its flat bow of corded ribbon, such as the men wear, no matter what its heel.

Buckles rightly belong to slippers, but there is no breach of good taste in choosing one of kid, of gun metal or of jappaned metal on a pump of dull kid. If one wears patent leather slippers with Spanish heels then the buckle may be of silver, of gilt or of cut steel, but it is to be hoped that American women will go back to their original method and keep this brilliant footwear off the streets in the morning hours.

No heat, scorching, glass or friction—saves the "IRONLESS."

THE USEFUL NEWSPAPER
Often old newspapers are thrown away or sold for practically nothing, though there are scores of ways in which they may be useful—practical ways.

Layers of newspaper are better than any felt for padding beneath a carpet or linoleum. Several thicknesses of newspaper put evenly over the floor before the covering proper is laid down will double and treble the life of the latter. With stairs too. A good even pad of newspaper should be tacked firmly over the edge of each stair. This prevents the carpet or linoleum wearing quickly away at the edge. When outside or like materials are used for coverings, shovels in the kitchen and such like, it should always be padded with several layers of newspaper. This adds greatly to the wearing power.

Nothing beats old newspaper for cleaning and polishing purposes. Windows and all kinds of glass gain a very bright lustre if rubbed up with a good pad of old newspaper. It is equally efficient for polishing brass and silver plate. Many people regularly use newspaper in preference to chamber leather for such polishing purposes.

Bottles which require cleaning inside can also be cleaned by filling with water and some stripes of newspaper. If well shaken the paper swirls round and detaches the dirt from the side of the bottle.

For all sorts of packing, newspapers are simply invaluable. When clothes are being put away they should always be well wrapped in sheets of newspaper, while sleeves and such like should be stuffed with crumpled sheets so as not to lose their shape. Newspapers are really far better than tissue paper for this, even though it does not look so nice. It has the advantage of acting as a preventive from moths. A good way of storing furs for the summer months is to sprinkle them with carbonyl and fasten up in an air tight newspaper packet. Paste together two fairly thick newspapers in bag form, put in the furs and then fasten up the ends so that no air or anything else can get inside. Cutlery and china which have to be stored should always be wrapped in newspaper. Nothing preserves their color and freshness in a better way. Steel cutlery so stored ought to be greased before being wrapped up, to keep it from rusting. Newspaper made into a pulp is a most excellent thing for stopping draft holes in floor boards, skirting and walls. The pulp must be pressed tightly into the hole, and when dry the place can be painted or papered if necessary. For fire purposes old newspapers are very useful outside the ordinary recognized way. Newspapers soaked in a bucket of water and pressed tightly into balls make an excellent backing for a fire which requires to be kept going for any length of time. First rate fire lighters also can be made in this manner. Take a newspaper lengthwise and fold it tightly until there is a thick web measuring about an inch across. Tie each end firmly. Fold each length into three and tie tightly again where the ends cross each other. Greasy pans of all kinds clean more easily with newspaper than cloths. Grease which resists the efforts of soap and water can frequently be re-

ATTENDANCE HAS DOUBLED AT LOWELL'S PLAYGROUNDS

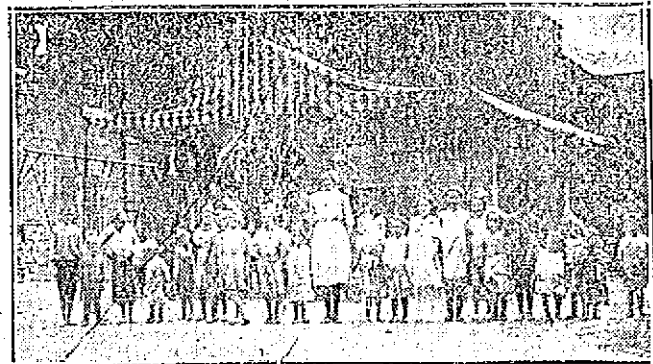

PLAYGROUNDS AT THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL

The Movement Has Grown and Interest is Being Displayed by the Public

Lowell's playgrounds opened Monday, July 8, and the attendance thus far has almost doubled that of the first two weeks of last year, showing that while less money has been appropriated for playground purposes than was appropriated last year, the movement has grown in popularity and there is greater demand for public interest in ness with which the different games are sought. If Tommy Jones isn't as big and sturdy as Billy Smith, Tommy Jones isn't relegated to a back seat to look on while Billy Smith is having all the fun. The supervisor or instructor is there to see to it that the rights of the weaker ones are protected, and he sees to it that Tommy Jones gets his playgrounds. A reporter and photographer for The Sun visited the playgrounds yesterday and took pictures at the Paige street and Greenhalge school playgrounds. One who has not visited the playgrounds and witnessed the children in full enjoyment of supervised play cannot appreciate the great benefit derived by the children and the eager-share of the fun. The weak and the strong must share alike and supervised play breeds a spirit of fairness that makes for good citizenship.

Miss Helen Hurd has charge of the girls at the Greenhalge school playground, and she is assisted by Miss Eugenie Frapier and Miss Elsa Bradley. More than 250 little girls have visited the Greenhalge school grounds in an afternoon and enjoyed to their hearts' content the merry-go-round, the swings, slides, teeters and other playground apparatus. It is a beautiful sight to see the children at play and to know that they are not indulging in anything that is dangerous, nothing but piling, health making sport. At the Greenhalge school the use of the apparatus is divided, so to speak, between the boys and girls, the girls using in the afternoon what the boys used in the forenoon or vice versa.

A. C. Eveleth has charge of the boys at this playground, and he certainly has his hands full. He had about 250 boys under his wing yesterday and they were prancing around like colts in closed pasture. Mr. Eveleth is chock-full of enthusiasm on the playground question, and he knows how to handle the boys, too. He has two baseball leagues with three and four teams to each league, and the way they went the horseshoe pill about those grounds is a caution.

"I wouldn't be surprised if I had some major team timber here," said young Mr. Eveleth to the reporter, and after witnessing the work of the boys for a time the reporter made up his mind that the supervisor was not over-estimating the ability of the lads as ball players. The boys were practicing then and were waiting for a couple of teams from the Allen street grounds, games between the two grounds having been scheduled for the afternoon. Mr. Eveleth confessed that he was a little shy on bats, baseballs and gloves, and if some kind soul would throw some over the fence they would be received with open arms.

The Paige street playground is not as pretentious as some of the others, but it means just as much to the children who go there as do the larger grounds. Miss Mabel Haggerty has charge of the Paige street ground and she takes great delight in instructing her little band in the proper line of play. A canopy is erected on the Paige street grounds to shelter the children from the sun, and though the grounds are small and undesirable in location, this little breathing place is greatly appreciated by the children in the vicinity and it has become so popular that Miss Haggerty, by right, should have an assistant.

Woman Telephone Operator Says Her Error Caused Railroad Wreck

BURLINGTON WRECK NEAR CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 18.—Officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad in an official statement fix the responsibility for the accident at Western Springs on George Bronson, engineer of the mail train that ran into the Overland Limited, and on Frank Woodworth, the Overland Limited's flagman, who went back to protect the rear of the stalled train. Engineer Bronson stuck to his post and was one of the thirteen killed when his engine plowed through the rear sleeper of the limited and tumbled the cars into a confused heap, but Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, a woman telephone operator in a tower at Western Springs, admits that she misunderstood telephoned orders to her and that she held the Overland Limited when she had been told merely to report its passing, so that the train dispatcher could keep a freight train out of its way.

THE PLAYGROUNDS GREAT ATTRACTION

Doctors Give Attention to Little Ones

Despite the fact that less money was appropriated this year for the maintenance of the playgrounds, the attendance is larger than last year and the instructors have more than they can attend to. The playgrounds are open from 9 to 11 o'clock in the forenoon and from 2 to 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. If more people would visit the playgrounds while the children are in action greater general interest would be taken in the playground movement.

There are few people in the city who are sufficiently interested in the movement to give of their time and business, try The Sun "Want" column.

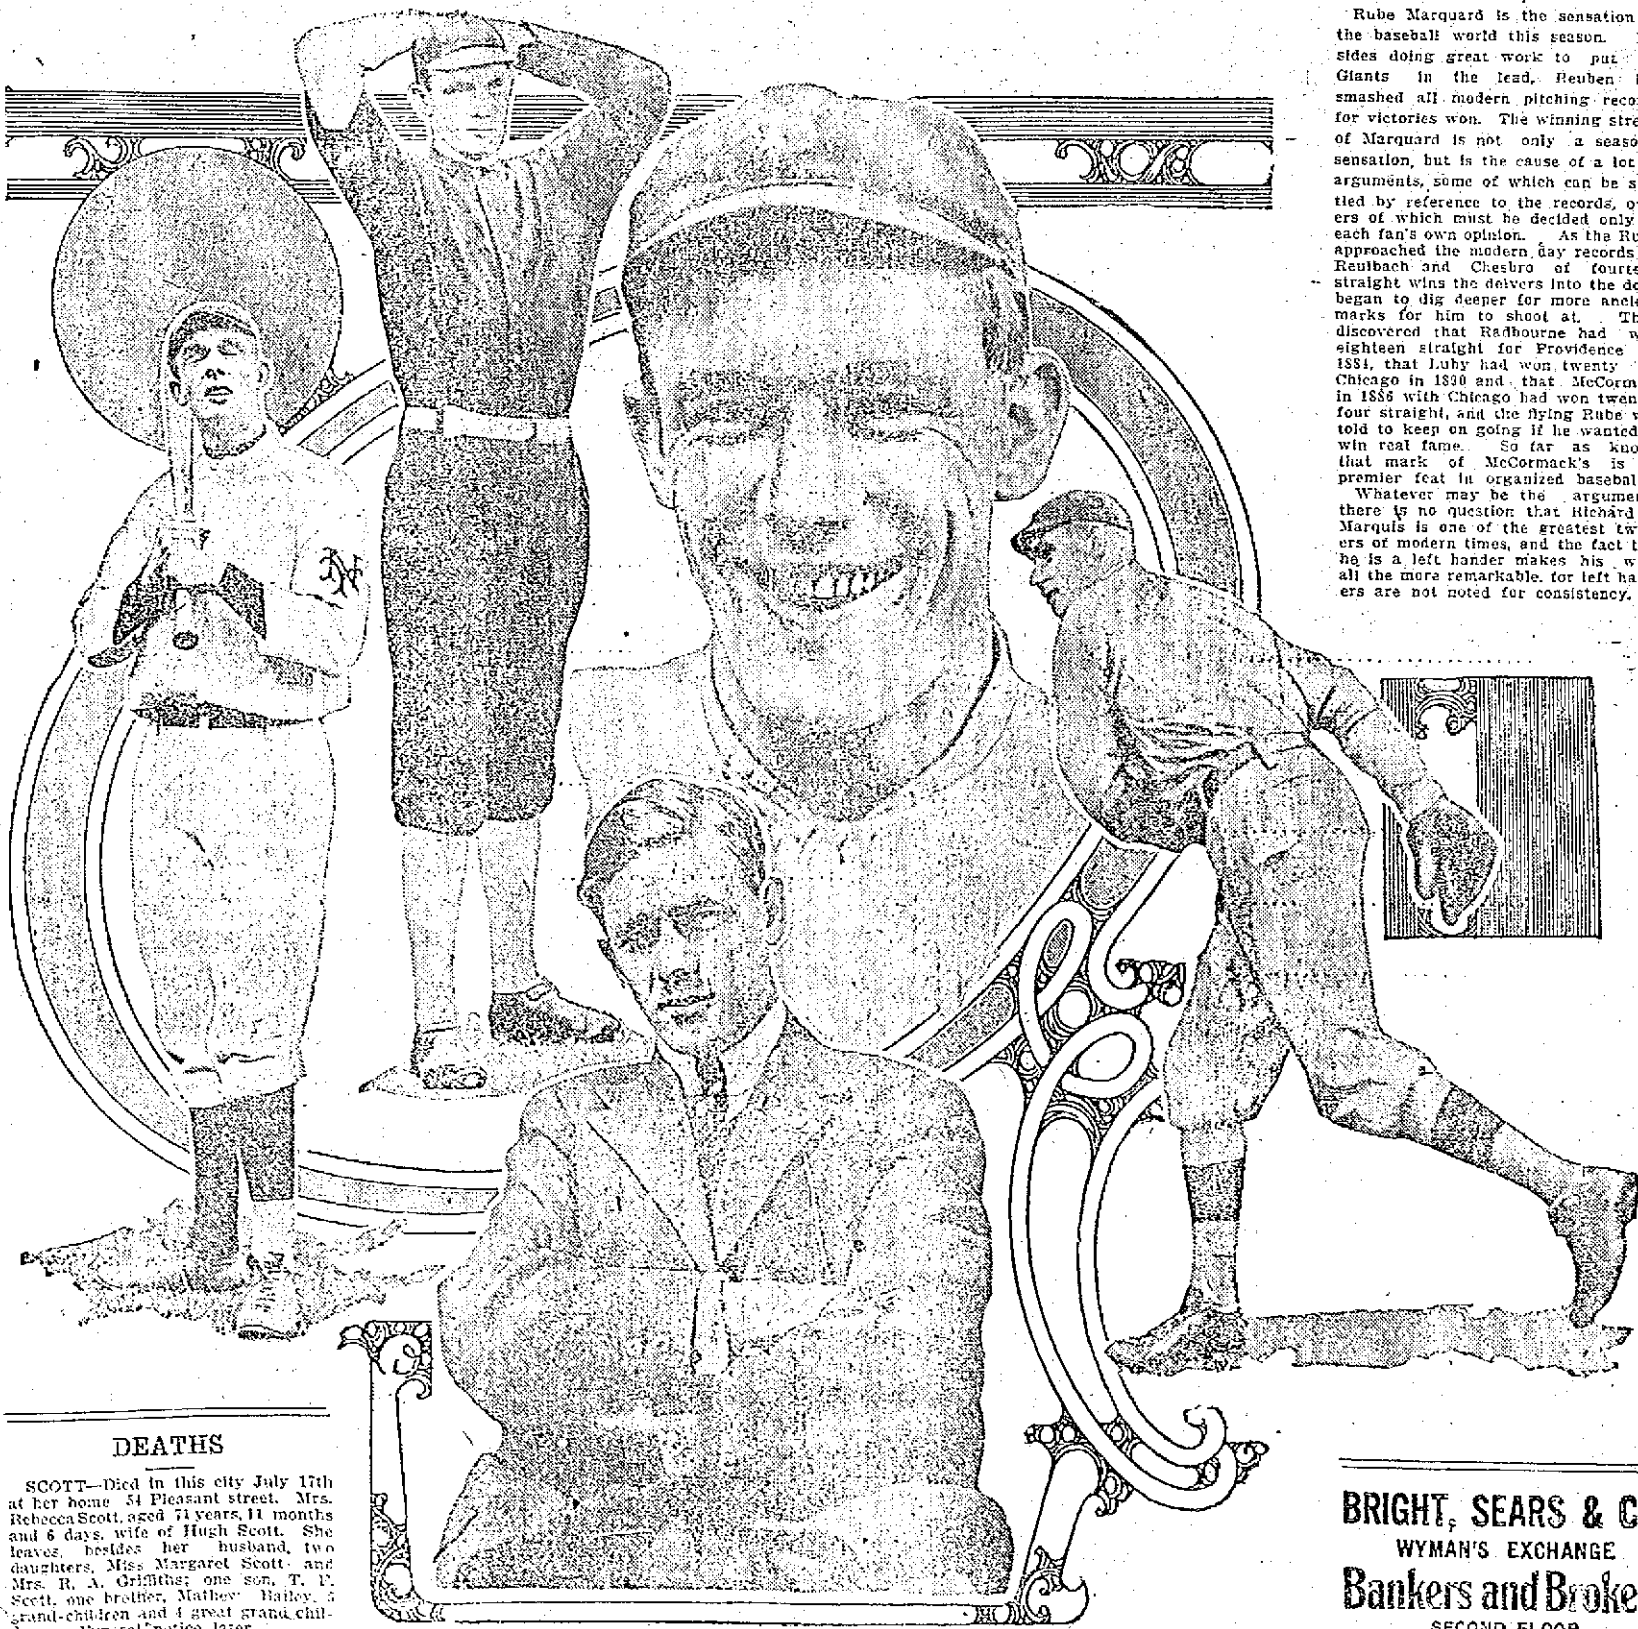

day and the doctors do not charge for the visits. They examine the children and if they find them in need of medical attention, they communicate that fact to their parents. There are lots of little attentions that the doctors give the children at the playgrounds and they are rendering very valuable service. Dr. Joseph Mehan visits the South common; Dr. James J. Cassidy the North common; Dr. Michael A. Tighe, the Greenhalge school playground; Dr. George O. Lavallo, the Allen Street playground, and Dr. Charles M. Roughan the Paige street playground.

STRICT RULES

FOR CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE IN MINNESOTA

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—Candidates for office under the Minnesota, corrupt practices act just passed cannot even dictate political letters to their stenographers unless they first make arrangements for campaign committees, according to a ruling made yesterday by Attorney-General Smith. This construction of the new act seems absurd, Smith admitted, but is justifiable by its text.

Five Views of Rube Marquard, the Great Sensation of the Baseball World

Rube Marquard is the sensation of the baseball world this season. Besides doing great work to put the Giants in the lead, Reuben has smashed all modern pitching records for victories won. The winning streak of Marquard is not only a season's sensation, but is the cause of a lot of arguments, some of which can be settled by reference to the records, others of which must be decided only in each fan's own opinion. As the Rube approached the modern day records of Reubach and Chesbro of fourteen straight wins the dopes into the dopes began to dig deeper for more ancient marks for him to shoot at. They discovered that Rathbourn had won eighteen straight for Providence in 1881, that Luby had won twenty for Chicago in 1890 and that McCormick in 1888 with Chicago had won twenty-four straight, and the lying Rube was told to keep on going if he wanted to win real fame. So far as known that mark of McCormick's is the premier feat in organized baseball. Whatever may be the arguments, there is no question that Rube Marquard is one of the greatest pitchers of modern times, and the fact that he is a left hander makes his work all the more remarkable, for left handers are not noted for consistency.

THE RUSSELL WILL CASE NOT GOING TO GRAND JURY

District Attorney Higgins Has Decided Not to Take Action at the Present Time

BOSTON, July 18.—The Russell will case will not be presented at present to the Middlesex grand jury by District Attorney Higgins, in accordance with the request of Counsel Shanton, who is acting for "Dakota Dan" in the hearing now pending before G. A. A. Peavey, sitting as master in the case.

Mr. Shanton said that if the district attorney did not take up the matter with the grand jury he would make application to the foreman of the grand jury for a hearing. There was a clear intimation by Counsel Shanton that there was perjury in the case, and he wanted the matter sifted to the bottom.

The question now remains whether Counsel Shanton will go before the grand jury and ask that it hear his evidence, or wait the termination of the proceedings.

Mr. Higgins points out in his letter that the matter is now being heard before a master appointed by the supreme court, and that the rights of all the parties will be fully protected. He says that if in the course of the hearing the master or the court should be of opinion that there is perjury, and the matter is called to his attention, he will present the facts to the grand jury. Mr. Higgins declares that it would not be fair to either side at this time to take this matter before the grand jury, as it might have a tendency to prejudice one side.

Objects to Expense
The district attorney says that the expense of proving the identity of the Russell "will" ought not to fall on Middlesex county. He says this is a matter that should be borne by the parties to the controversy. Just how many persons will be involved in this inquiry cannot be stated, but it is likely that a number will be called to the grand jury at some stage of the proceedings, covering the state-ment made. Dakota Dan said he was willing to waive immunity and go at once before the grand jury.

In the hearing yesterday before Master Peavey, Counsel Shanton brought out the fact that Fresno Dan has several attorneys in his employ out in Fresno, Cal. To G. W. Cartwright of Fresno he has paid $200, and to William Olin of that city he has paid the sum of $1000.

Agreed to Pay Eighth
Fresno Dan yesterday testified that he had an arrangement with the two Fresno attorneys that in case there was no contest he was to pay one-eighth of his share to the attorneys, and if there should be a contest the lawyers were to have one-third.

Fresno Dan said: "When I came east I found out that there would be no contest over my being the lawful heir." When Counsel told him that his lawyers were paid quite a sum, he said: "The estate paid that money."

Fresno Dan was asked how he happened to engage the attorneys, and he said: "I went to the police station in Fresno and was there put in touch with an attorney by the police."

There was no afternoon session of the hearing.

GREAT BRITAIN'S PROTEST AGAINST THE CANAL BILL

Was Presented to Secretary Knox Today by A. Mitchell Innes

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Great Britain's formal protest against the Panama canal bill, now in the senate, was presented to Secretary Knox today by A. Mitchell Innes, charge of the British embassy. The communication is believed to be an elaboration, supported by arguments of objections to the free toll provisions of the canal legislation who will probably transmit it to congress with a special message.

SUIT IS ENTERED AGAINST THE OFFICERS OF THREE LABOR UNIONS

BOSTON, July 18.—An unusual situation with regard to the employment of labor and strikes of union laborers is brought to light through the filing of a bill in equity in the office of the superior court yesterday by Charles B. Matthews of this city. The respondents are L. J. Cannon, business agent of the Bricklayers' union; Patrick J. Walsh of the Stone Masons' union, No. 9 and John Doe of the Laborers and Red Carriers' union.

Matthews says he is the owner of land 3, 5, 7 and 9 Templeton street, and 1810 and 1812 Dorchester avenue. He says he is erecting a five-story apartment on one of the lots, and that he entered into contracts with a person named Shuman and another named Dixon to furnish laborers.

Work was being done in a satisfactory manner until 11:30 o'clock Monday morning. Without warning, he says, the respondents came to the building and called the workmen from their jobs. He says that there has been no controversy between him or contractors and the laborers as to wages or working hours.

A few days ago he was summoned into court to answer for the sale of a certain remedy which it was alleged he had disposed of contrary to law. He was convicted, but sentence suspended. It is stated by his friends that the court incident worried him. He was the son of Mrs. Ella M., widow of Warren G. Upton.

BOY FOUND JEWELS

AND WAS GIVEN A REWARD OF $100

NEWPORT, R. I., July 18.—Less than 24 hours after Mrs. Ralph N. Ellis of New York a guest of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, reported the loss of a diamond and sapphire jeweled bracelet, valued at $5000, to Chief of Police Crowley, the trinket was placed in the hands of Mrs. J. Norman de B. Whitehouse, to whom Mrs. Ellis directed Chief Crowley in case it was found.

Mrs. Ellis offered a reward of $100, and Mounted Patrolman Scott was detailed to sweep the walks along Bellevue avenue and the Ocean drive. While at work he stopped at the home of his sister, Mrs. David Stewart, whose husband is caretaker of the Nancy Hazard estate on Ocean avenue.

Mrs. Stewart told him the jewel had been found by her son, David P. Stewart, aged 13, last Sunday morning on the Ocean drive in front of the Newport Fishing club.

The jewel was turned over to Chief Crowley and before noon the youngster had his reward.

GLIDDEN TOUR

DETROIT PEOPLE SAY IT SHOULD START EARLIER

Objections made in Detroit to the present assignment of dates for the Glidden tour will probably have no effect on the arrangements for this event. The A. A. A. originally selected October 2 for the start from Detroit, and this until recently appeared to be satisfactory to those in that city. Then it was objected that October 2 had been selected because it was believed that President Taft and Speaker Clark would be there for the National Road Congress. This convention, however, has been awarded elsewhere. Now the Detroiters want to have the tour start any time after the close of the State fair on September 21, and as near that date as possible.

At the A. A. A. headquarters in New York yesterday it was said that it would be handy at all to change the date. Many matters have to be attended to, in the way of arrangements on the line of the tour, and maps and other things have to be got out, so that leaving the tour start on October 2 doesn't leave any too much margin. An attempt to have it start earlier would make it impossible to attend properly to all the needed details.

A meeting was held yesterday by the special committee in charge of the tour to decide on the pathfinder car. Several concerns are understood to be after the privilege of supplying the pathfinder, in view of the publicity that accompanies this. The committee which is made up of Col. F. M. Joyce, Minneapolis; Lewis R. Spence, Boston; William E. Metzger, Detroit; John A. Wilson, Franklin, Pa., and W. E. Meyer, Des Moines, was not able to come to a decision, because of some small details that were overlooked in making up the specifications. The choice will not be announced for a few days.

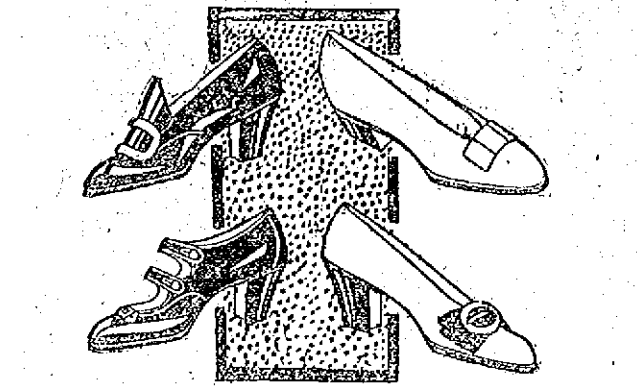

Definite information about the route, other than it will start at Detroit and run through Memphis to New Orleans, is not yet forthcoming. By what route these three points will be connected will not be made known until after the pathfinder completes its trip. The Detroiters are anxious to make Indianapolis a Sunday stop and it is not improbable the journey will be laid out that way. The pathfinder car is due to start from Detroit on July 23, the second day of the Cadillac celebration. Many thousands of motorists will be in town then and the car should get a great send-off.

Safeguarding the Health of the Canal Employees

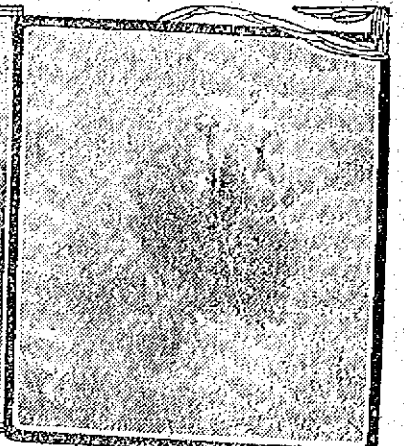

Beautiful Grounds of the Ancon Hospital

The Nurses Quarters at the Colon Hospital

Grounds of the Colon Hospital

Burning Grass from the Ditches

Copyright, 1912, by The International Syndicate, Baltimore.

PANAMA, prior to the coming of the French companies who tried but failed to build the Canal, was known as one of the most unhealthy climates in the world. In those days, added to the dangers created by nature itself, were still greater perils caused through the slovenliness of the people and their ignorance of means to prevent and alleviate disease. The French attempted by many admirable precautions to counteract the terrible forces which undermined the health and vitality of the unacclimated and were rewarded with a fair measure of success. But far greater was the success of the Canal Commission, who, profiting by the dreadful waste of life in the construction of the Panama Railroad as well as by the failures and success of the French in sanitation, started a vigorous warfare against all the contributing causes to disease, and by a vigorous and scientific policy put in operation methods of prevention which have rendered it reasonably safe for the Americans to live there without impairment to health. All this has been accomplished under the direction of Colonel William Gorgas, the medical director of the Commission, whose work of changing the miserable conditions on the Zone is considered one of the marvels of the age. Colonel Gorgas cleaned up Havana and banished yellow fever from the Cuban capital, but his task there was far less difficult than it was on the Zone, where even today eternal vigilance is the price of keeping out disease. Rigid laws had to be made for the employees and those laws must be just as rigidly obeyed.

When Colonel Gorgas took up the work he found Colon a perfect pest hole, with muddy streets and stagnant pools of water which formed an excellent breeding place for mosquitoes. There was little or no arrangement as to the handling of garbage and flies were plentiful. All these fruitful sources of disease have gone as Colon has been well paved and today its streets compare favorably with those of any American city. The patios or yards of the poorer class were found to be a menace to health and these, too, were paved. Nothing breeds and fosters pestilence in the tropics more rapidly than damaged and decaying food supplies, and a law was passed compelling garbage to be deposited in corrugated iron cans which must be kept covered. These are used all over the Isthmus, or, at least that part of it which comes under the supervision of Uncle Sam.

While this was being done Colonel Gorgas was beginning his campaign against mosquitoes. It will be remembered that Doctor Ronald Ross, an eminent Scotch physician of the Indian Civil Service, after many experiments discovered that certain diseases were transmitted by and only by the bite of mosquitoes. Doctor Ross demonstrated by his experiments that malaria fever is caused by the presence of bacteria in the blood, and should the female of a certain species of mosquito bite a human being while the bacteria is going through its cycles in the blood she sucks in some of them. These develop in nine days, and if she bites another human being she inoculates him with malaria. This theory was accepted by the medical officer of the Commission and he at once set about to have the carrier of the disease killed off, and so well drilled are the employees in the belief that these little pestiferous insects are the greatest enemy to their health that if they should hear or see a mosquito in their quarters they would at once notify the Sanitary Department, and this has become as natural as to notify the police department that a burglar is in the house. The water systems and sewers which have been built in Panama City and Colon did away with most of the rain barrels and other artificial water containers in which the mosquitoes could lay their eggs. The fumigation of the houses destroyed all the grown-up mosquitoes, so in the towns and quarters of the employees every means was adopted to stamp out the existence of these pests. But outside there were many swamps and these breeding places had to be destroyed, and with that end in view the Sanitary Department organized a mosquito brigade. It is divided into several divisions—one is to make war on the Stegomyia, the yellow fever mosquito, and another to kill the Anopheles, the carrier of malaria. Every morning the mosquito brigade sallies forth on its murderous mission and if a mosquito has been seen they search until they find it. Nine mosquitoes out of ten sleep after a meal of blood. They are usually found on the wall or in the folds of clothing and the brigade is pretty sure to find them. A record is kept and the sanitary report of last year shows that 6,259 adult mosquitoes were killed. Of course, all the buildings are thoroughly screened. The testing of these screens was rather curious as various kinds of mosquitoes were caught and put into cages made of different kinds of netting. They were kept there until it was determined just what kind of netting afforded the best protection. An architect then worked out the plan of screening. One of the strangest things about the Panama mosquito is that the Stegomyia, the yellow fever carrier, lives only near human habitations and in consequence is more easily exterminated. The malaria mosquito lives in the swamps and is more difficult to destroy because his breeding places are so numerous. A special larvicide brigade was organized, the sole purpose of these men being to destroy the larvae. This is done by filling a can with a mixture of crude carbolic acid, resin and caustic soda. The mixture is called larvicide. It is put in the can and drops through a small hole in the bottom. It will soon spread over water like the black oil stuff used on roads. The chief of the larvicide brigade, who seems to know all about mosquito life, declares that the larvae must wiggle up to the surface of the water every two minutes in order to get fresh air. This makes thirty times an hour during the twelve days of their life in that state. The majority of them are sure to get a mouthful of larvicide some time during their fresh air trips after which they never come up again. "Infant mortality among our mosquitoes is on the increase," declared one of the brigade as he filled up his can, "and malaria is on the decrease by reason of it."

The elaborate campaign of draining the swamps has not only reduced the number of cases of malaria, but it has reduced the death rate as the disease is in a much milder form and there is rarely a death from it. During the French regime more people died of malaria than of yellow fever. Some idea of the work this malaria campaign has entailed can best be appreciated from an account of the work given in a recent report—"Brush out, 16,000,000 square yards; swamp lands filled and drained, 1,000,000 square yards; ditches dug, 217,000 linear feet; the ditches laid, 60,000 linear feet." This same report tells of the cleaning up of 1,512,737 feet of old ditching. Whenever it is possible streams are made to flow swiftly and regularly and this prevents the mosquito breeding. The Commission employs an entomologist and this gentleman has made a special study of mosquito life and can give one an immense amount of information about the fifty or more varieties of this little insect which for so many years was regarded as merely exasperating without being harmful. Mosquitoes, however, are not the only insect offenders against health for the sleeping sickness of Africa was traced to flies, and it is a well-known fact that the bubonic plague has been spread from fleas which gathered the virus from infected rats. The Canal Commission is taking no chances with the latter, and there is also a rat brigade. A record of the victims is kept and last year over 13,000 rats were killed. Smallpox, too, has been wiped out by vaccination.

At present the physicians there are fighting the same ailments as the physicians of New York City are doing—tuberculosis, pneumonia, appendicitis, measles, etc., so even the Canal Zone diseases have been Americanized. A number of excellent hospitals presided over by a corps of specialists are scattered over the Zone. So much has been written about the splendid management and excellence of the corps of physicians and nurses in charge that there seems little more to say in regard to them. However, they form a very large part of the safeguarding of the health of the thousands who are laboring on the Canal and no write-up on health conditions would be complete without some special mention of these institutions. In the first place, the salaries of both physicians and nurses are remunerative enough to attract capable medical people. They are among the best equipped hospitals in the world with all appliances needed in medical and surgical work. There are two terminal hospitals—Ancon is on the Pacific side. It has an ideal location and with its magnificent grounds it is considered one of the beauty spots of the Zone. It has a capacity of thirteen hundred beds. At Colon, the Atlantic end of the Canal, the big hospital is on the waterfront. The grounds are filled with plants and the main drive is arched over with palms. The buildings stretch out along the water—in fact, the operating room is built out over the water and on the very hottest day there is always a breeze blowing through the wards of the Colon hospital. There are several smaller hospitals, including a sanatorium at Taboga and the Leper Asylum at Palo Seco, as well as dispensaries all along the line. The death rate on the Zone last year was 6.35 average per thousand; in 1908 it was 8.19 per thousand, so it will be seen that the Isthmus is becoming more healthy each year. Quinine seems to be the favorite medicine, especially among the negroes, and last year 2,817 pounds of quinine were issued at the different medical departments on the Zone.

Naturally, in an enterprise as large as the building of the Canal accidents will occur, and last year the deaths from casualties reached 178. Many of these deaths were caused by laborers jumping on and off the work trains while they were in motion—a thing the Canal Commission has tried in every way to stop. All employees are granted injury leave not exceeding thirty days in the calendar year, and all regular employees above the grade of laborers unaccustomed to tropical climate will be granted fifteen days sick leave with pay for each six months' service on the certificate of an authorized physician in the service of the Medical Department of the Canal Commission to the effect that the employee has been unable to work on account of illness contracted through no fault of his own. All medical attendance is given free to employees, and members of the family will be served with medicine and admitted to the hospitals, a nominal charge being made. A hospital car is run over the Isthmus every day calling at the various places along the line for such persons whose condition demands attention at the larger hospitals.

The quarantine regulations are strict, as the Commission has enough work combating disease under existing conditions in the Zone District without being obliged to take care of imported troubles. Surgeons from the United States Marine Hospital Service have been loaned to the Canal Commission and these men guard Colon and Panama with a discipline which makes it practically impossible for an infected person to land. Good, comfortable quarantine stations are maintained and persons coming from infected ports who desire to land are kept there until all danger of disease is past.

Mother Earth's Recent Disturbances and how they are Recorded

The Volcano of Colima

Alaska Peninsula showing Kodiak Island

In the Alaskan Earthquake Belt

DISTURBANCES of various kinds on our continent, as well as telegrams, show that the Pacific coast region in the vicinity of Alaska and Mexico has been greatly disturbed this past year. Volcanoes that slumber or break out only occasionally have shown signs of activity. More than this and undoubtedly by due to the same cause, the Japan Current which runs along the coast of southeastern Alaska has changed its course and so altered the Alaskan climate that last winter it was mild in Nome, where as a rule the cold is extreme. This current has always made the climate of Sitka as delightful as that of Balmora, England, in whose latitude it is situated, but northern Alaska towns on the coast have not until this last season been so fortunate.

The latest and most severe disturbance in Alaska is that of the Katmai volcano. It not only caused the destruction of numerous villages, largely inhabited by Indians, Russians and half breeds, but threatened Kodiak Island, the home of the magnificent Kodiak bear and important for its fisheries. The eruption of this volcano was so terrific that the air was charged with gas and wherever rain fell the vegetation was ruined. Alaskans have been fearing some unusual phenomena for scientists have asserted that the changes in the Japan Current were due to motion taking place under the Pacific Ocean, and such unusual activity often presages some violent eruption.

The whole shore of the southwestern portion of Alaska is fringed with towering mountains, but few show pronounced signs of late volcanic activity, though at some period terrific changes undoubtedly took place here. In certain places there are hot springs which indicate volcanic disturbances. The Aleutian Islands and Kodiak Island are another matter. Ever since they were first known they have been of great interest to geologists, for they show their volcanic origin, and contain mountains over eight thousand feet high. One of these islands rose from the sea in 1776 and another appeared as late as 1833. They came undoubtedly from volcanic disturbances and have altered in appearance since. Most of the sedimentary rock goes back to the Tertiary age, but there is some which shows more recent volcanic changes. This is the region which reports unusual volcanic activity. It abounds in game, there are some excellent salmon canneries and a few Russian priests conduct services for the Indians. Russians, half breeds and traders who live in the villages situated on bays which jut inland.

The Mexican disturbances which are recorded on our seismographs are undoubtedly of the same volcanic character and along the same Pacific Coast belt, but they effect a region where the climate and vegetation is the extreme opposite from that of the Alaskan coast. For the past year the volcano of Colima has been causing various earthquakes tremblings and disturbances which show on the seismographs. Though the Alaskan volcano is to the extreme north and the Mexican is in the middle of the Pacific belt there is little doubt but that they are both forming outlets for subterranean disturbances. Colima is in a beautiful part of Mexico not far from the harbor of Manzanillo on the Western coast. This new harbor has a backwater of 1445 feet in length, an acreage of one hundred and sixty-five acres and a depth of thirty feet. It will soon be one of the most important ports on the Western coast. It was here that the sailor warriors of Cortez built boats in which they started to conquer the Pacific, a journey that gained the Philippines for Spain.

Colima, itself, is a perfect and beautiful cone which towers high in the sky—as a matter of fact it far outtops Vesuvius, being 12,000 feet high. It sends out columns of smoke most of the time and on occasions becomes more violent so that recent earthquakes tremors in Mexico have been attributed to this volcano. The railroad—a new one running to the Western coast—passes within 9 miles of the crater and volcanic ash and lava almost meet the track.

Wherever an earthquake shock appears, whether in Alaska, Mexico, the United States or foreign countries, all disturbances are recorded on the various seismograph instruments, and while the cable or telegraph may localize them, the seismograph tells that they have occurred. The Alaskan disturbances were chronicled not alone at Washington but at other places. The seismograph at Columbus, Ohio, registered in six days over thirteen tremors and other instruments showed enough motion for calculations to be made on the distance and intensity. Scientists are deploring that we have not more of these valuable instruments, but so far their delicacy together with the technical skill required for their management has prevented their general installation and use.

For perfection in seismographs we must look to Japan where there is a flourishing seismographic society and expensive apparatus for recording all kinds of earth disturbances. Some of the best seismographs on this side are in the Meteorological offices at Toronto, at Victoria, British Columbia, at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and at the Lick Observatory at Mt. Hamilton, California. But none of these are as finely balanced as those of Japan. As a matter of fact, the seismograph is not so old in the United States and scientists are hoping that we may at no distant date be better equipped to record oscillations, vibrations and quakings of the crust of the earth.

The Marvin instrument located in Washington is made with weights and a needle which passes into a hole much like that in the plate of a sewing machine. When there is no disturbance the needle passes through the middle of the hole, but a seismic change causes it to touch the plate. This deviation can be instantly recorded by a clock or on a sheet of paper, and is usually correct. The Weather Bureau has a so-called anemometer register which is a cylinder revolving once in six hours. This cylinder is marked off into spaces of five minutes each so that a pen constructed so as to trace a spiral line on the sheet instantly shows any deviation and the exact time it takes place. An earthquake record shows many lateral logs on the line traced by the pen.

Another seismograph has been invented by Professor John Milne, who has an observatory on the Isle of Wight, Great Britain. This consists of a long, slender pendulum whose support is fixed on a base of brick and masonry sunk deep in the earth, and subject only to the earth's interior motions. The record of a disturbance on this instrument is taken on a ribbon of sensitized paper so sensitive that it will show the exact condition at any hour of the twenty-four. A curious fact in these pendulum instruments is that any earthquake anywhere in the world produces exactly the same record, an earthquake shock in South America, for instance, causing the same record on the Isle of Wight as in the United States. According to scientists the most sensitive form of seismograph would consist of a device by which a fixed beam of light is made to produce a trace on a photographic plate moved by clock work.

A single record at one point only does not possess much value, a number of accurate records over a large region are desirable. It is said, that if the stations of our Weather Bureau distributed over the United States were each equipped with a seismograph, by charting and comparing observations considerable might be learned and that it is possible that from these records we could learn of the intensity of the shocks. The instrument in Washington records the time at the beginning of the disturbance, and it is considered reliable for its records only real earthquakes and is not influenced by ordinary tremors.

So far, science has not yet found a way to determine when or where an earthquake is to occur, though a volcanic eruption is usually preceded by warnings. Sometimes these come from neighboring volcanoes and often cause widespread devastation, but the inhabitants of the doomed region are slow to become alarmed. The value of the seismograph is shown by the fact that every earthquake of recent years has been recorded and such disasters as those of Martinique, Sicily and San Francisco showed marked tremors of greater or less intensity. It is anticipated that when these instruments are perfected they will not alone show complete records but record premonitory symptoms so that warnings can be issued.

TO EMBARRASS CHANCELLOR GEORGE

It looks as if the employers in England are to make trouble for the government in the application of the new insurance law that has been put into effect. The employers are assessed a certain small amount weekly to help keep up the insurance of the employees, and in order to cover this expense many employers have reduced the wages. This has already led to a strike on the Liverpool docks, and England of late has had too many strikes. A number of business concerns have combined to block the enforcement of the law by neglecting its provisions and thus causing so many prosecutions that the court dockets will be blocked. The Tories not only in parliament but all through the country are trying hard to embarrass the ministry and cause its downfall. They claim that this insurance law was rushed through without proper discussion and that it is unjust in its provisions. Any break-down of the law might cause the overthrow of the ministry although this is not likely as the government has already weathered many more serious storms.

THE NEW BEDFORD STRIKE

New Bedford is now in the throes of a great mill strike, twelve of its big mills having shut down. The cause of the strike is the refusal of these companies to abolish the grading system against which the operatives have kept up an agitation for some time. The last thing the mills can do is to settle the matter as soon as possible so that they may not lose their skilled help and have to surrender into the bargain. Lowell and other cities want skilled mill operatives such as the New Bedford strikers and will doubtless secure many of the New Bedford strikers if the struggle be prolonged.

The supreme court of this state recently decided a test case brought at Clinton, in favor of the mills. The weavers then to prevent the system becoming permanent and being extended voted to strike and were followed by other crafts. The payroll of the mills now closed is $100,000 and the number of operatives idle about 13,000.

NO BACHELORS NEED APPLY

Governor Foss takes the stand that a candidate for governor should be married or in other words that he should be a family man. While there is no constitutional bar to the bachelor, we are inclined to agree with the governor although the fact that a man is married is but a small part of the qualifications of a good candidate for governor. The bachelors ignore the women, and if the latter could vote there is no doubt that every bachelor of a certain age would get a choice between paying a per capita tax and selecting a life partner. We do not believe, however, that the governor's dictum will cause many bachelors to hasten into the matrimonial market. Let it be understood, however, that when it comes to seeking high political office no bachelor need apply.

THE CANAL QUESTION

England has the best of the argument in the Panama canal matter. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty binds this country to treat the ships of all nations alike in the administration of the canal. Some senators at Washington contend that the phrase "all nations" in this connection does not include the United States. Is not this country a nation? Had the phrase in the treaty read, "All other nations" the senators would have good ground on which to base their arguments. At present they have none. English diplomats with their usual shrewdness and foresight fooled the Americans in this case, and it is useless to haggle over the matter. Even if submitted to The Hague or any other tribunal, only one conclusion is possible.

PLACING THE RESPONSIBILITY

When a railroad company states that a terrible accident upon its lines was due to drunkenness on the part of the engineer, that does not excuse the company nor relieve it from its responsibility. It should not have an engineer who would get drunk. Besides it should adopt some means of providing against the weakness of the human factor. The accident on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road the other day in which thirteen lives were lost is found to have been due to mistakes on the part of a flagman and an engineer. This is another case in which the company seeks to hide behind an employee who failed in his duty. That again is no excuse. The people want a more positive arrangement for their protection.

REPAIR THE DANGER SPOTS

Our street commissioner should do something to do away with the "bumps and the bumps" so common in our streets and so ruinous to automobiles. There are a great many holes in some streets and particularly in some of the asphalt streets that should be repaired. They are really dangerous because they cannot always be noticed until too late to avoid them. Another serious annoyance to motorists is the raised crossing with a small trench on either side and over which autos bump with a force almost as bad as a slight collision. Why not remedy some of these defects in our principal streets.

CIGARETTE SMOKING

Some young men apparently think it is smart to smoke cigarettes on the street. We believe it is a nasty habit that should not be indulged in by any self-respecting young man. It is not at all an agreeable spectacle to see a lot of young men after leaving a hall or sometimes after leaving a church lighting their cigarettes and smoking as they walk along the streets. We would advise them to drop this habit, not only for their own good, but out of respect for those who have to use the sidewalks and who naturally dislike to inhale the cigarette smoke coming from the mouths of others.

TAFT TO KEEP MUM

So President Taft is not to make the stump in his own behalf in this campaign. That is the wisest course. As he will be defeated anyhow it would be wiser for him to keep silent and take the chances of being worsted in combat. The "Terrible Teddy" will be around with his war paint on, calling everybody bad names and saying he has been robbed. As Taft has not a united party behind him he could gain nothing by going on the stump anyhow.

The murder of a New York gambler who was about to peach on his confederates was apparently committed in order to prevent him giving testimony before the district attorney. The New York police are good at ferreting out murders but it is feared that some of themselves are implicated in the murder. It seems to be seen just who the guilty parties are.

SEEN AND HEARD

Ed. Hathaway, the well known sign painter is exhibiting a freak caterpillar found in a garden on Centralville hill. The insect resembles a miniature porcupine for standing upon its back. Existing in all directions are a number of small white quill-like cells from which myriads of little flies emanate. Ed. carries the insect in a bottle lest some skeptical one believe that he was seeing things, as he describes his peculiar find.

And Senator Grimes has cast his hat into the ring. What an inspiration his beautiful "Galaxy" will be for the cartoonists, while what an opportunity the campaign song-writers will have to revive the famous old ditty about his venerable namesake with the buttons down behind.

Some one evidently has malicious designs upon Commissioner Barrett. First he was accused of pouring river water into the reservoir and more recently his reservoir was reported to have caved in, both reports happily being without foundation.

Don't forget there are some free hand concerts yet to come.

It's all well enough, as the editor has truly remarked, to learn how to swim, but it is equally important to know when to swim. For many a good swimmer has succumbed to cramps for going into the water when over-heated or too soon after a hearty meal. Remember also the first thing to do upon entering the water is what the boys call to "duck under," or in other words thoroughly wet the head.

Over 1000 people visited the reservoir job on Centralville hill, Sunday, looking for the wall that had caved in, according to a published report and they went away with decided opinions as to the veracity of the publication which misled them. That part of the work is being done by F. A. Barbour & Co., recognized as among the leading water works engineers in the country, and not by Commissioner Barrett's department, and if the walls should cave in, the Barbour company and not the water works department would be responsible.

GOOD OLD SOULS

My dame is old and I am old,
We're dazed and dim and dull and cold;
But what care I and what cares she?
We're happy folk whatever be.

Time was when she was young and gay,
Would snirk and smile and dance away;
Though dancing does not now agree,
We jog on happy, I and she.

And I was once a lively boy,
Would sing my song and pipe for joy;
No more of piping now for me,
Yet all our days are harmony.

We do not hilt and coo and kiss;
A loving hug would come amiss;
To old rheumatic bones, you see;
But that is naught to her and me.

In summer, when the sun is hot,
We tiddle round our garden plot;
And hark a bit and watch the bee;
It hums for joy and so do we.

And when the winter snows and blows,
We sit beside the fire and dose;
Or laugh and chat and drink our tea.

LONG THE ROAD FROM KALISPEL
We heard the jaybird's carol from the beech in Autumn time;
The leaves were growing yellow and the nuts were at their prime;
Twas a fair Lenora with me and her footsteps gently fell
Upon that ancient roadway that leads from Kalispel.

The nimble squirrel leaping the swaying boughs among,
Coughed he bold and chatted, as he to the branches clung;
Then gently spoke Lenora in her softest words to tell
Twas good to stroll that roadway that leads from Kalispel.

And down that ancient valley strolled Lenora fair and I,
Our shadows 'gan to lengthen, as the sun moved down the sky,
And from the hill above us we could hear the tinkling bell—
Sure 'twas a happy ramble on the road from Kalispel.

The cool Autumnal breezes stirred the trees majestic grand,
And as we met them coming, our cheeks all flushed were fanned,
And yellow leaves and golden in showers profuse there fell,
Along that ancient roadway that leads from Kalispel.

The milestones then were counting, to fair Lenora, said I,
"The sun is low and twilight is now growing in the sky";
Quoth she in softest whispers, "I know, but yet 'tis well;
I'd walk with you forever, 'long the road from Kalispel."

BIG GOLF TOURNAMENT

The competition for the trophy of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Golf Association will be played August 21-24 at the Brookline Country Club, Brookline, Mass. The tournament is open to all golf clubs belonging to the Massachusetts Golf Association. Each club entering the contest will send two men who will represent them.

The competition will be played by foursome matches of eighteen holes with the exception of the final round which will be thirty-six holes. The opponents will be drawn by lot. All matches in this competition are governed by the United States Golf Association rules excepting that all disputes will be settled by the executive committee of the Massachusetts Golf Association. If there are more than thirty-two clubs entered in the competition the first round will be played Wednesday afternoon, August 21. If there are less than thirty-two clubs entered the first round will be played on Thursday morning, Aug. 22. If less than sixteen clubs are entered the first round will be played Thursday afternoon, August 22.

In the event of a tie between any two teams the players shall proceed without interval to the first teeing hole, where they will continue play until one side eventually wins a hole. The winning club will retain the trophy for a year when they will again compete for it. Members of the winning team in the final round will receive the silver medals of the association. All entries should be mailed to J. H. Wilder, secretary of the association, 108 Water Street, Boston.

This competition, which is held every year, always arouses a friendly rivalry between the golf clubs. The Vesper Country Club has entered the competition before this year and will undoubtedly do so this year.

Everybody's dancing at the Lakeview dance hall, for the floor there is so smooth, the music of such an excellent quality, and the surroundings so congenial that the dancing public is taking advantage of the opportunities offered, and at all seasons the hall is comfortably filled with lovers of the terpsichorean art. Kittredge's orchestra of eight pieces is playing better than ever and the vocal selections by John Y. Myers add considerably to the enjoyment of a trip to the hall. ## MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

These who have witnessed this week's performance at the Merrimack Square Theatre pronounce it one of the most entertaining summer attractions seen locally in some time. Edgar Foreman and Company in the presentation of the comedy playlet, "A Deal of Hearts," is especially pleasing. Deaf and Grant and MacGowan, known as "Those Comedy Boys," are most amusing in their original sketch in which new comedy is cleverly given. This pair has the happy faculty of "putting things over" in a manner that meets with the approval of all. Their week's run here will make them unusually popular with the patrons. Max Holden gives a clever exhibition of shadowgraphing that will appeal strongly to the children and younger folk. Miss Alice Bagley is being heard in the latest and best illustrated songs, and the photo-plays for the last three days of the week are again one of the bright features on the bill. They include some views that are instructive as well as entertaining. It's always cool and comfortable here.

PICKEREL CATCH

BIG ONE WAS LANDED BY GEORGE F. PEARSON

The biggest pickerel catch of the year at Long-Sought-For pond, in Westford, was made yesterday, by George F. Pearson, the well known inventor whose home is in Grace Street. Mr. Pearson went out in the late forenoon, fished for an hour or more without receiving more than the merest nibble, but like all faithful disciples of Ike Walton he stuck to it and at about 2 o'clock a two pound pickerel went to the hook with a school boy's appetite for apple sauce. George had just filled his pipe afresh and was thinking out an invention for the quick destruction of gypsy and brown-tail moths when the two-pounder grabbed the hook. He had a lively scrap on his hands for a few minutes but he landed his prize all right and he never left the spot where his dory was anchored until he had taken 41 pickerel aboard and at least a dozen of them weighed in the vicinity of two pounds apiece. Mr. Pearson is a fisherman from the word go and he wound up yesterday's performance by corraling a seventy-eight pound turtle, the largest ever captured at Long-Sought-For. "Pete" Patterson and "Tom" Hoban have been fishing at this pond all summer and six pickerel is the biggest catch they have made in any one day. "Pete" watched George Pearson as he pulled in the fish "hand over fist" and with a deep sigh remarked that George must have struck a "school of 'em." Mr. Pearson was a guest at Camp Dawson and Messrs. Hoban and Patterson cannot understand why the pickerel should give the "natives" the go-by and welcome the stranger.

HOW TO ABSORB AN UNLOVELY COMPLEXION

(Phyllis Moore in Town Talk)

The face which is admired for its beauty must have a satin-smooth skin, pink and white and youthful looking. The only thing I know of that can make such a complexion out of an aged, faded, or discolored one—I mean a natural, not a painted, complexion—is ordinary mercurial was. This remarkable substance literally absorbs the unsightly cuticle, a little each day, the clear, healthy, girlish skin beneath gradually peeping out until, within a week or so it is wholly in evidence. Of course such blemishes as freckles, moth patches, liver spots, blotches and pimples are discarded with the old skin. If you will procure an ounce of mercurial wax at the drug store, use like cold cream every night, washing this off mornings, you'll find it a veritable wonder-worker. Another valuable natural treatment is a wash lotion to remove wrinkles which can be easily prepared. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Bathe the face in this and you'll find it "works like magic."

STRIKE SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

JACK ROSE ARRESTED
IN MURDER CASE

He is Charged With Being Implicated in Killing of Herman Rosenthal

NEW YORK, July 18.—"Jack" Rose, wanted by the police in connection with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler and informer against the police, went to police headquarters this morning and was questioned for two hours by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty. Rose admitted, Dougherty said, that he was a passenger in the automobile in which Rosenthal's murderers drove to the Hotel Metropole, but said that he left it before the shooting took place.

The deputy commissioner would not say whether Rose told who else was in the car.

Police Commissioner Waldo today announced the suspension of Patrolman William J. Fife, who was in the Hotel Metropole off duty at the time of the murder and unsuccessfully pursued in a taxicab the automobile in which the murderers escaped.

Rose gave himself up, the deputy commissioner said, after the latter had told "Bridge" Webster, arrested yesterday in the case, to find him and tell him to come immediately to headquarters.

"I am positive," said Dougherty last ter, "that I shall have the murderers of Rosenthal in custody before long. I believe Brecker was entirely ignorant that the murder was going to take place. Rose acknowledged he was in the gray automobile but not at the time the shooting took place."

"His statement as to his whereabouts at the time of the shooting was very vague."

"He admits that he hired the car, that he got somebody to telephone for it from Tom Sharkey's saloon in Fourteenth street."

Lieut. Brecker and Commissioner Waldo appeared at city hall shortly after noon today and went into conference with Mayor Gannon.

Rose was later arraigned before Coroner Feinberg.

"You are charged with being implicated in the murder of one Herman Rosenthal," said the coroner, "and understand that you have no objection to being remanded to the Tombs."

The prisoner's lawyer replied in the affirmative and then the coroner held Rose without bail for an examination on Monday.

Hundreds of the gambling fraternity attended the funeral of the murdered gambler this morning.

OPERATIVES IN NEW BEDFORD MILLS
NOT MOLESTED—STRIKERS TOLD
TO BE ORDERLY

NEW BEDFORD, July 18.—Quiet prevailed in this city during the early hours today, the fourth day of the strike and lockout of more than 13,000 operatives in 12 of the 19 cloth mills of New Bedford. Crowds of strikers and sympathizers gathered in the vicinity of the seven mills which have not been affected by the weavers' strike for the abolition of the grading system. The police, however, controlled the situation and the strikers made no efforts to induce the workers to remain away from the mills.

Several hundred persons gathered near the Butler mill, the scene of yesterday's disturbances. A large squad of police patrolled that section and did not allow the strikers to gather near the mill gates. After the mill machinery was set in motion the officers dispersed the crowd. Many of the men and women departed toward the Industrial Workers of the World headquarters to attend an open air meeting. At the Whitman mill there was a gathering of strikers but the police scattered the crowd.

The executive board of the weavers' union met and discussed the developments of the strike. Weavers' headquarters were established in the north and south end sections of this city for the enrollment of strikers.

About 1000 persons attended the open air meeting of the Industrial Workers of the World and listened to addresses by Grover H. Perry and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, national organizers. Perry said that the members of the union have been warned against using violence while on the picket lines. He announced that strikers have been engaged to defend the Industrial Workers who have been arrested, and said that members of the union arrested were put in jail instead of paying fines.

Antonio De Almeida, who was arrested yesterday for obstructing the sidewalk near the Butler mill, was found guilty by Judge Milken in the district court. De Almeida appealed from a $20 fine.

None of the operatives at work were molested during the noon hour. The crowd that assembled near the Butler mill was slow in dispersing but there was no indication of disorder.

All Industrial Workers of the World in this city are on strike, according to Organizer Perry. He estimated the number at several thousand.

An appeal for funds for the aid of the strikers will be sent to all affiliated unions throughout New England by the United Textile Workers. It is proposed to ask the loomfixers now working to aid the strikers.

YOUNG MAN KILLED IN WEST CHELMSFORD

Arthur Ingham Struck and Killed by the Bar Harbor Express This Afternoon

Arthur Ingham, aged 18 years, son of George H. Ingham, grocer and provision dealer with a place of business in Gay street, North Chelmsford, was struck and killed by the Bar Harbor express at the railroad crossing near the depot at West Chelmsford.

The young man is employed by his father and was on his regular route through West Chelmsford. He was familiar with the running time of the train and inasmuch as the train is due at West Chelmsford at 3.15, he undoubtedly thought that it had passed. There was no flagman at the crossing and when the big train, which was about 15 minutes late, came thundering down the tracks he did not have time to get out of the way. It is said that the engineer did his utmost to bring the train to a stop in order to avert a collision but the train was traveling at such a high rate of speed that it was impossible to do so and the engine crashed into the wagon and hurled Ingham a distance of about 15 feet and then struck him, killing the young man instantly.

MAN WAS FINED $5 ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Man Who Stole Mazda
Light Fined $7

Thomas Pepin, who a month ago was found guilty of assault and battery on Wilfred Aubrey, appeared in police court this morning for sentence, and Judge Pickman imposed a fine of $5. Pepin, whose right name is Pappas and who works in Boston, came to this city about a month ago and found Aubrey in company with his wife and assaulted him. He was brought into court and while the judge said he would have to find Pepin guilty, he sympathized with the defendant and continued the case for a month. Several weeks ago Aubrey and Mrs. Pepin were brought before the court and found guilty of adultery and at the present time Aubrey and Mrs. Pepin are serving sentences of three months in the Lowell jail.

He entered a plea of guilty and the court imposed a fine of $7.

FATHER AND SON

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM
SERIOUS INJURY

Joseph Chicoline and his son, Elphage, had a narrow escape from being badly hurt yesterday when the staging on which they were working on a house at Tyler Park collapsed. They were working on the roof of the house when suddenly the staging gave away and both were precipitated to the ground, a distance of about 20 feet.

Mr. Chicoline fell to the piazza on the first floor and struck on his back, but outside of a bad shaking up, he was none the worse after his fall. His son, however, fell to the ground, striking on his stomach and face, and broke two front teeth. The young man was removed to his home, 273 West Sixth street, in a buggy, and outside of the loss of his teeth and a bad shaking up, he was all right.

THE KASINO

The old timers gathered in large numbers on Kasino Hill last night, when the Kasino orchestra gave a program of old time melodies. In the crowd were hundreds of the younger generation, who seemed to enjoy the music of 20 or 40 years ago fully as much as their seniors, and the picture presented on the dance floor as the crowd moved in perfect time to the orchestral cadences was one of animation. The cornet soloists, Roscoe McDaniel and James H. Buckley played several numbers that were duly appreciated. In response to popular demand, the management has decided to continue the "old timers" feature indefinitely, and every Wednesday night the Kasino orchestra will play the good old times for dancing. Meanwhile, the regular Kasino sessions, afternoon and evening, will continue to attract thousands of people, young and old.

CAMPAIGN FUND

REACHED $1,000,000

When Parker Ran, Says
Wm. E. Sheehan

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The democratic campaign fund contained about $1,000,000 when Alton B. Parker ran for president in 1904, according to W. E. Sheehan of New York, who testified today before the senate committee investigating campaign funds.

Mr. Sheehan was then chairman of the democratic national executive committee. Money was sent by the committee, he testified, to Maine, Colorado and Nebraska particularly.

"To Maine, did you say?" asked a senator.

"Yes, with very gratifying results to democrats," replied Mr. Sheehan.

Mr. Sheehan assured the committee that sums sent to Maine, Colorado and Nebraska were not large. He said he remembered August Belmont was a large contributor that year, and Senator Oliver asked if Thomas F. Ryan was also a contributor in the same campaign. The witness responded that he was.

LIVELY CONTESTS FOR A. O. H. OFFICES

Insurance Feature Great Topic of Discussion

(Special to The Sun)
CHICAGO, July 18.—Over 1000 delegates to the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians were welcomed at a reception held in the red room of the Hotel La Salle. Delegates were present from Canada, Europe and one from the Philippine Islands. Australia was represented by a visiting brother of the order from the Antipodes. On Tuesday morning the delegates were driven from the La Salle hotel to the Holy Name cathedral where Archbishop James E. Quigley conducted pontifical high mass, followed with a sermon by Bishop John P. Carroll of Helena, Montana. After the service at the church the delegates repaired to Emmet hall where the sessions will be held during the week.

The convention was called to order by P. J. Flanagan, chairman of the local arrangements committee who introduced National President James J. Regan. Mr. Regan stated in his opening remarks that the convention proceedings would be devoted strictly to business and not to oratory. The usual credential committee was appointed and the convention adjourned to Wednesday morning. On Wednesday morning all delegates repaired to St. Patrick's church where a regium mass for the repose of the souls of departed members was offered. The Ladies' Auxiliary opened their proceedings on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the red room of the La Salle hotel. Miss Anna C. Mall, national president of the ladies called the assembly to order and immediately proceeded to business. Credential committees were appointed and the ladies wound up their first session by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

On Tuesday evening a reception was tendered to the delegates and their friends at Emmet Memorial hall. The ladies and gentlemen presented a fine appearance. The costumes of the fair sex were most dazzling. On Wednesday evening a banquet was tendered all delegates at the Auditorium hotel. Tonight a five hour cruise on the steamer United States will give the delegates a glimpse of Chicago shore at night. Friday evening Riverview park will be visited. The convention promises to be most harmonious, several contests will be waged for national honors, particularly for the office of national secretary. Five or six candidates have announced themselves, including P. F. Cannon of Clinton, Massachusetts; Philip Sullivan of Hartford, Conn.; James M. Ford of Newark, N. J.; James T. McGinnis of Scranton, Pa., and James King of Louisville, Ky.

Regarding the other officers' opposition to the present administration has not yet developed, but there are many murmurs heard around the hotel lobby. Many complain against the national officers for not carrying out the mandate of the last national convention held at Portland, Oregon, when they were instructed to try and bring about a conference between all Irish societies, to the end, that mud-slinging and malicious statements would be stopped regarding Irishmen who represented different opinions upon the Irish question.

No action to this effect was taken. Many asserting that Mr. Regan was controlled by the outside influence of other Irish societies. The Irish Unity proposition will be one of the great questions that will be discussed, as will also be the recommendation of the national board, to have national insurance attached to the order. Every member to be insured, same as the Knights of Columbus and other fraternalities.

The A. O. H. being known as the poor man's organization may be increased by the new feature, as it might be the means of stopping assassinations which is the bane of all fraternalities. While on the other hand it might weaken its influence, all phases of the subject will be discussed, and the majority will decide the feasibility of the question.

Massachusetts is well represented and for brains, ability, integrity and popularity they compare most favorably with the representatives from the various states at the convention.

ENDED HIS LIFE

SALEM MAN WAS TWITTED BY HIS FRIENDS

BOSTON, July 18.—Discouraged by ill-health and the twitting of his friends about his recent fine for selling heroin, Charles O. Upton, 25 years old, a drug clerk employed by Thomas P. Nichols, Salem, committed suicide yesterday at his home, 2 St. Peter's Street court, in that city. Medical Examiner Frank S. Atwood did not state the nature of the poison used, although it is thought to have been corrosive sublimate.

Upton, who lived with his mother, Mrs. Etta M. Upton, was summoned into the Salem court recently with other drug clerks, for the instance of the Watch and Ward society for selling heroin. He was fined $5. The matter preyed on his mind and increased the despondency (ill health) had caused.

He went to his room last evening, took the poison and then called to his mother. When she ran to his side he said he had poisoned himself because he could not stand it any longer. Police and physicians were notified, but the young man died before assistance could be given.

LAWN PARTY

HELD AT GROUNDS OF HILLSIDE CHURCH

The annual lawn party of the T. P. S. C. E. was held last night on the grounds of the Hillside church, in Dracut. The affair was very largely attended, and the success of the event was very flattering for the organizers. A hurdy-gurdy provided a musical program throughout the evening and the booths and tables which had been laid around the grounds did excellent business.

The tables and booths were presided over by the following: Ice cream, Walter Grant and Mrs. Laura Tucker; tonic, Mr. and Mrs. William Ryder; candy, Andrew Shanks and Miss Flora Gunther; automobiles, Charles L. Hodge.

The full corps of the society members assisted in the general supervision of the party, and in all much credit is due for the success of the affair.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Leather Workers of America, Local No. 2, was held Tuesday night in their hall at 237 Central street. The feature of the evening was the installation of the officers who were recently elected, as well as the reading of the report of the delegates who attended the national convention in New York.

The following officers were installed: President, Charles Shanley; vice president, Dennis Healey; vice president, James Brennan; to succeed the retiring vice president, Harry Rose; financial secretary, Cornelius J. Sullivan; recording secretary, William F. Liston; treasurer, George Wesson; board of trustees, Fred Buckley, Charles Burns, Thomas McFadden, John McGuirk. The delegates, James Coleman, Fred Buckley, William Liston and Charles Shanley, submitted their reports, stating the locals throughout the country are in good standing and working conditions in leather trade industry satisfactory, which was accepted by the union. Several communications were read and proper action taken. President Charles Shanley was elected as a delegate to attend the Massachusetts state branch of the A. F. of L. convention. Refreshments were served.

HOUSEBOAT BURNED FAMILY ESCAPED

All Reached the Shore
in Safety

NEW YORK, July 18.—A houseboat owned by William Frederick of Brooklyn was struck by lightning at its anchorage in Jamaica Bay early today and burned to the water's edge. Frederick, his wife and five children were asleep on board when the bolt came. Their only chance to reach safety was by swimming and the father and a 17-year-old son helped the other children, only one of whom could swim. Mrs. Frederick, almost as good a swimmer as her husband, needed no help. The family had a hard time in the water but all reached shore.

ONE BOY KILLED ANOTHER INJURED

In Auto Accident in Roxbury Last Night

BOSTON, July 18.—One boy was killed and another injured within a space of half an hour as a result of two automobile accidents in Roxbury last night.
Stealing a ride on an inward-bound Roxbury Crossing car on Columbus avenue cost the life of 8-year-old Frank Behns of 355 Parker street, Roxbury. The boy jumped from the car into the path of an automobile, which fractured his skull. He died before he reached the City hospital.
The automobile was owned by Patrick E. Keating of 611 Washington street, and was operated by William H. Dwyer of 30 Upton street. Dwyer rushed the unconscious boy to the City hospital in the automobile.
Dwyer was placed under arrest on the charge of manslaughter.
A few minutes later John J. Cavanagh, 14, of Linden Park street, was struck and knocked down by an automobile owned and operated by Dr. H. D. Kennedy of Peabody at the corner of Roxbury and Union Park streets. He was taken to the City hospital suffering from lacerations of the scalp.

THE MORROW JURY MAY BE ABLE TO RETURN A VERDICT TONIGHT

NEW YORK, July 18.—It was expected today that a verdict might be reached this evening in the case of Mrs. Rene B. Morrow, on trial on a charge of having shot her husband to death on the porch of the Morrow home last December.
While the closing arguments were in progress today, Mrs. Morrow seemed hopeful of acquittal on the ground that Morrow was either murdered by a burglar or committed suicide. It was understood that the motive for her prosecution lay in her disfigurement to Morrow's relatives after his death that the property of the couple was held in the name of Mrs. Morrow.

DRUGGISTS' OUTING A GREAT SUCCESS

Sports and Dinner Were Greatly Enjoyed

The local druggists who went to Bass Point and Nahant yesterday on their annual outing report that this year's affair was the best in the history of local "drug fraternities." The party included about 150, and after leaving Merrimack square at 11:45, they had no cars and for one day forgot about Lowell's sick people and also the thirty ones who frequent their establishments.
After dinner, as was stated in yesterday's Sun, the ball game was on. The names of the teams were changed on the trip up the seashore and the warriors went to the diamond as the "Magnesia Sulphates" and the "Cascara Sagrada's," the former under the captaincy of John O'Neil, of Lawrence street, and the latter in charge of Joe Gumb, the clerk at Goodale's. The latter, however, was obliged to take defect at the hands of the "Mags," the season when three were declared out in the last of the sixth inning, being 20 to 14. The manager of the winners says that the official scorer was a wee bit off, but Fred Lewis, who held the indicator, would not change his decision, so the game stands.
Many feature plays were pulled off during the game, the most prominent being a remarkable running catch by Brockford in left field. Charlie Day, up in center field for the "Mags," team pulled a fine catch after three were out in the third inning. He ran in from the center garden, in Ty Cobb fashion and one of the spectators, who wore side combs, gave him a great hand—which he later held.
The game was the most enjoyable number on the program and the winners received a box of cigars. The teams lined up as follows: "Mags," Sulphates—O'Neil, p. 3b; O'Neil, 3b; Nelson, c; Sheridan, 1b; Webster, 2b; Lee, R; Brennan, cf; Zimmerman, rf; Gilchrist, lf; Bridgeford, cf. "Cascara Sagrada's"—Lelline, c; J. Gumb, p; Calais, 1b; G. Gumb, 2b; Welch, 3b; Brounello, ss; Lavack, rf; Devro, cf; Conroy, lf. Umpire, Fred Lewis.
After the game several other blithely interesting and amusing sporting events were on the card. The 100 yard dash brought out a big field and it was some exciting heat. Finally after a great sprint within two fractions of the tap T. J. Mack went to the front and won out by a close shave, receiving a Gillette Safety razor. Jim O'Dea, who won a bunch of prizes at last year's outing, came in second and he conned a pair of cold cream. In the head race, Donald St. Lawrence was there and he carried off the honors, setting a Clifton. Joe Gumb came in second and he received a cold stick pin. A novelty event was introduced, known as the 100 yards backward walk and this was one that met with the approval of everyone in the party. There were numerous entries, but they gradually dropped out—or graduated from the class—but at the finish Albie Lettine had his back to the front and just for that he got a gold watch, Charlie Devro was next to fall over the tape and he was presented a gold chain.

After another lunch the members left for home, all pronouncing the affair the best ever. The following contributed to the outing:
Cartier, Carter, Meigs, and Gillman Bros., Gillette Safety razors; Eastern Drug Co., 100 cigars; Davies, Rose Co., 100 cigars; National Cigar Stand, 100 cigars; R. G. Sullivan, 500 7-20-4; G. C. Prince, National League ball.
The executive committee in charge was: President, Frank McNabb, Fred Burt, Jas. Buckinslaw, Frank Campbell, Wm. Noonan.
The sports committee was as follows: Chas. Noonan, Fred Lewis, Harry Leighton, Chas. Parthenais, John Chas.

GIRL INJURED HER LIFE WAS SAVED BY A POLICEMAN

CAMPAIGN WORK BEING ARRANGED

State Committee Not to Take Sides

BOSTON, July 18.—No formal vote was taken at the meeting of the democratic state executive committee yesterday in reference to any candidate seeking the democratic nomination for governor or lieutenant-governor.
It was the first meeting of the working body of the state central committee to lay out the work for the full campaign. A meeting is to be held every two weeks.
A suggestion was offered, however, that the executive committee and the

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE
In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair, in which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years. He began its use his head was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow from a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.
For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: 6 ounces of Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavana de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and then add the Lavana de Composee; shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores gray hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you desire to grow thick hair, add one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing scent. We presented this prescription at Hall & Lyon Co's pharmacy, this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

ENGLISH CROOK PICKED THE POCKET OF A DEPUTY SHERIFF

PITTSFIELD, July 18.—David Wilson, said to be an English crook, who was caught robbing a Hinsdale house and was sentenced to eight months in the house of correction, picked the pocket of Deputy Sheriff Frank White while being taken to the county jail for commitment yesterday.
When Wilson arrived at the jail he returned the deputy's watch to him. He said he wanted to show the officer how easy the trick was done.

TOM JOHNSON DAY CLEVELAND, July 18.—

Cleveland observed today as a Tom Johnson Memorial day. Had the former mayor, champion of the single tax and three cent fare, lived this would have been his 55th birthday. Practically all city offices were closed. There will be a formal memorial celebration tonight.

LAWN PARTY HELD ON GROUNDS ADJOINING CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

An enjoyable lawn party was held under the auspices of the Helping Hand society and the Men's League of the Calvary Baptist church last night on the Flint property adjoining the church. The grounds were illuminated by Chinese lanterns and a hurdy-gurdy furnished music. There was a large attendance and the affair proved to be a social as well as a financial success.
During the evening a rope drill was given by girls ranging from six to ten years of age. Little Miss Gladys Hall led the drill. Misses Eleanor Daws and Geneva Charlton had charge, and they were assisted in preparing the little misses for the event, by Mrs. M. E. Sweetser and Mrs. Frank A. Hall. A well patronized feature of the event was the supper table, presided over by Mrs. J. M. Dows, Mrs. A. H. Maxey and Mrs. T. A. Laporte. Mr. and Mrs. John Charney had charge of the ice cream; Mr. A. W. McQuesten prepared the coffee; there were tonics for sale by Paul McGregor and Ray Page, and J. O. Phinney was the popcorn man. In charge of the flower table were Misses Nettie Barron and Blanche Hutchings, and home-made candy was dispensed by Mrs. Q. A. Foster and a number of girls.

Shooting of a Gambler by Assassins in Auto Has Aroused New York

NEW YORK, July 18.—The assassination of Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, who had complained to District Attorney Whitman about oppression by members of the police department, has aroused New York more than any crime of violence in years. Rosenthal was shot at 2 a. m. in front of the Hotel Metropolis in West 43d street, only a few feet from Broadway, by four or five men who rode to the scene of the murder in an auto and escaped in the same vehicle. Rosenthal had gone to the Metropole from his home at 324 West 41st street only a short time before the shooting. He had expected some such trouble, and his wife says she begged him to stay at home. Within a few hours after the crime the auto the assassins used had been identified, and Louis Libby, part owner of the vehicle, and William S. Shapiro, the other owner and the chauffeur at the time of the shooting, were arrested.

FIREMAN KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE

Twenty-one Other Persons Injured

ATLANTIC CITY, July 18.—Capt. Edward Barnett, 40 years old, head of the central fire station, was killed; George Proffitt, chief of the city electric bureau, was knocked unconscious, and a score of firemen were badly shocked at 10 o'clock last night when a lantern in Barnett's hand completed a circuit and sent 5700 volts from an arc light through his own body and into the metal trimmings of a wall, 120 feet from the ground. The accident occurred during a fire in city hall.

The fire fighters, who had been following their leader up the steps into the narrow towers, were hurled from their feet, escaping death only because the shock knocked them from the steps to a landing.

Three thousand persons gathered in the street below watching the flames creep around the clock and the small windows, heard the screams of terror from the injured men. There were wild scenes as men fought through the startled throng to gain entrance to the hall and effect a rescue.

It was thought when word reached the street ten minutes later that a platform had collapsed at the top of the tower and plunged the firemen to their deaths below.

Police used their clubs to keep back the crowd, while firemen from the central station, next door to the municipal building, rushed through the entrance and up the stairs.

When they arrived they found Carl Creamer, George Messick, hosemen, lying stunned 30 feet below the roof, where, dazed from the shock, they had crawled to escape from the flames that streaked from the top.

HINTS ABOUT HOUSEHOLD

Suggestions as to How to Whiten Clothes

To whiten clothes which have turned a bad color try the following plan: Prepare a solution of pipeclay and warm water and soak them overnight in this. Then wash and boil next day in the usual way, and they will come out looking as fresh and white as when new.

New Blinds
When nailing new blinds on the rollers try nailing a length of tape on to the roller with them. If this is done there is no chance of the blind tearing from the roller.

For Jap Silk
Many people do not know that if Jap silk is stitched with cotton instead of silk, the seams are not so likely to cockle in the wash. This is of great saving when ironing.

To Remove Creases
When clothes have been hanging in the wardrobe for any length of time they are apt to become creased looking. This can be remedied by hanging them in front of the fire for a few minutes, when the creases will vanish.

New Tins
New tinware should be rubbed well all over with lard, heated for a moment in the oven or on top of the range, and then well wiped. Tins treated in this way seldom, if ever, tarnish.

CURE FOR HEADACHE
Headache is often the result of indigestion. No woman, however perfect of feature, can be truly beautiful when a racking pain draws her face full of fine lines and dulls the expression of the eyes. The next time you are suffering with headache try drinking a half glass of cold water into which has been squeezed the juice of half a lemon and a half teaspoonful of soda. The drink is not unpleasant.

MUSLINS ARE POPULAR
There is a place in the summer toilet year after year for spotted muslin. Here we have a fabric that has never been so great a favorite among women that it became commonplace in their estimation. Modest and demure it is, but withal very charming.

There are dainty white muslins with colored rosebuds and green leaves scattered over the surface, and there are others spotted with white that are given colored borders in the delicate summer shades that are always delightful, the pale blue, the clear pink, the soft mauve and green shades.

TAN SHOES IN VOGUE
Tan shoes are again in fashion. That light putty color which was so much in fashion in France last winter and which one feared would become fashionable here is fortunately missing. All the Russian tans are used in pumps, in oxfords and in two eyelet ties. Buckles still take precedence over ribbons, except in the oxford and on pumps.

True, a wide number of women prefer the more or less huge buckle on their pumps, but you will notice that the well dressed woman who is smartly turned out in every detail will wear the plain pump with its flat bow of corded ribbon, such as the men wear, no matter what its heel.

Buckles rightly belong to slippers, but there is no breach of good taste in choosing one of kid, of gun metal or of japanned metal on a pump of dull kid. If one wears patent leather slippers with Spanish heels then the buckle may be of silver, of gilt or of cut steel, but it is to be hoped that American women will go back to their original method and keep this brilliant footwear off the streets in the morning hours.

No heat, scorching, glass or friction—saves—The "IRONLESS"

THE USEFUL NEWSPAPER
Often old newspapers are thrown away or sold for practically nothing, though there are scores of ways in which they may be useful—practical ways.

Layers of newspaper are better than any felt for padding beneath a carpet or linoleum. Several thicknesses of newspaper put evenly over the floor before the covering proper is laid down will double and treble the life of the latter. With stairs too. A good even wad of newspaper should be tacked firmly over the edge of each stair. This prevents the carpet or linoleum wearing quickly away at the edge. When linoleum or like materials are used for coverings, shelves in the kitchen and such like, it should always be padded with several layers of newspaper. This adds greatly to the wearing power.

Nothing beats old newspaper for cleaning and polishing purposes. Windows and all kinds of glass gain a very bright lustre if rubbed up with a good pad of old newspaper. It is equally efficient for polishing brass and silver plate. Many people regularly use newspaper in preference to chamber leather for such polishing purposes.

Bottles which require cleaning inside can also be cleaned by filling with water and some strips of newspaper. If well shaken the paper swirls round and detaches the dirt from the side of the bottle.

For all sorts of packing, newspapers are simply invaluable. When clothes are being put away they should always be well wrapped in sheets of newspaper, while sleeves and such like should be stuffed with crumpled sheets so as not to lose their shape. Newspapers are really far better than tissue paper for this, even though it does not look so nice. It has the advantage of acting as a preventive from moths. A good way of storing furs for the summer months is to sprinkle them with carbox and fasten up in an airtight newspaper packet. Fasten together two fairly thick newspapers in bag form, put in the furs and then fasten up the ends so that no air or anything else can get inside. Cutlery and china which have to be stored should always be wrapped in newspaper. Nothing preserves their color and freshness in a better way. Steel cutlery so stored ought to be greased before being wrapped up, to keep it from rusting. Newspaper made into a pulp is a most excellent thing for stopping draft holes in floor boards, skirting and walls. The pulp must be pressed tightly into the hole, and when dry the place can be painted or papered if necessary. For fire purposes old newspapers are very useful outside the ordinary recognized way. Newspapers soaked in a bucket of water and pressed tightly into balls make an excellent backing for a fire which requires to be kept going for any length of time. First rate fire lighters also can be made in this manner. Take a newspaper lengthwise and fold it tightly until there is a thick wad measuring about an inch across. Tie each end firmly. Fold each length into three and tie tightly again where the ends cross each other. Greasy pans of all kinds clean more easily with newspaper than with soap and water can frequently be removed by rubbing well with sheets of newspaper. It often happens that people wish to paint something temporarily—something from which paint cannot be removed if the surface is once covered. In such a case it is a good plan to cover the thing with several thicknesses of newspaper and paint the newspaper covering with the same number of coats of paint as would have been applied to the thing itself. The painted newspaper can be stripped off when you like. $1.50 is far below their value. Get the "IRONLESS" PANT PRESSERS.

BOXING, GOLF
AND ATHLETICSLOWELL CONTINUES WINNING STREAK, DEFEATING LYNN 5 TO 0Zeiser Pitched Like Ed. Walsh and Held Lynn Sluggers in Check All the Way

LYNN, July 18.—Zeiser working like a big leaguer, and receiving fine support by his teammates, applied the kalamazoo to the Lynn team at Ocean park yesterday, when the Grays came here for a game with Terry's pets. The score was Lowell 5, Lynn 0.

The pitching of the Lowell man was the feature of the game. He had the Lynn batters swinging like a hammer, and five hits were all they accumulated from his delivery. At times he was a little wild, but managed to tighten up in the pinches. He fanned five of the Lynn sluggers.

Rube De Groff was there with the big stick, getting three fine singles, one a home run. Clemens got two hits and Terry McGovern got a couple himself, and only three other members of the Lynn team connected. De Groff played a great fielding game, catching seven chances without a miss. Jake Boutles was there with one of the most spectacular plays ever pulled at the grounds. The play came in the first inning. It began a double play unassisted and stopped the Lynn team from a positive score.

The play resulted when Wallace, the first man to face Zeiser was presented a free ticket and when Strands came to bat. Wallace went to second on a pass ball and then took third on another one that went by Monahan. Strands fanned. McGovern then slammed one down to Jake, who got Wallace off third and shooting across got Terry who was trying to make second. It was some play and Jake got the crowd.

Lowell's five runs were recorded in the third and last innings, getting three and two respectively. In the third session Clemens went to first on four wide ones Margee flit out to Walter. De Groff hit one too hot for Walter and the Rube got on. Halsteln walked, filling 'em up and on the last ball pitched the long red headed person threw his glove to the ground in disgust and Stafford, who by the way is some busy man these days, sent Walter to the stable, but not before paying his verbal respects to Stafford, and things warmed up a bit, but several of the players poured a little water on the head of the twirler and the game was resumed. Ward taking up the work with the three on one, the game was a hot pitch and Clem scored. Miller hit to Murch, who got De Groff at the plate. Miller swiped second. Boutles came to bat and Ward and Daum held a little whispering conversation, and then as a result of the talk Gus let one go by and Halsteln came home. Ward ran to the plate to get the throw from Daum but he slipped up and Miller who is always ready to take advantage of an opening came in like half past nine. Boutles walked but the inning was over when De fanned.

The game was then a great pitchers' battle until the final inning when Lowell got two more. In this session Zeiser singled, but he went out when Clemens tried to sacrifice and popped one into Murch's hands and Simon sent the pill across the lot for a double. Margee walked and De Groff met the pill with all that was in him and when he had circled the bases with Margee ahead of him it was discovered that the little white thing had gone over the fence into the ocean and as the tide was going out, they do say that the ball is now on the other side of the brink, which is just some long bingle for the Rube. Halsteln then fled to Daum.

Lynn tried hard to the ninth to send a man over but there was nothing doing. Logan flit to Margee. Cargo took first on Halsteln's error. Daum forced Cargo at second. Britton went to bat for Ward and the game was over when he grounded to Deo.

Three Views of Jim Thorpe, The World's Greatest All Around AthleteTHORPE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 18.—Jim Thorpe, the Sue and Fox Indian, winner of the pentathlon and decathlon events at the Olympic games, is the greatest all around athlete in the world. He is proficient in every branch of sport. In most events he has few equals. He is a fast sprinter, can travel a middle distance course in fast time and can negotiate a long run as well as many noted distance runners. Over the hurdles and in the jumps he is in the championship class. He can put the shot as far as many of the stars in this branch and can hurl the hammer and discus in mastery style. Besides the track and field sports, Thorpe is a crack baseball player. Last season he played quarterback on the Carlisle football team and was considered by many experts to be the leading man in the position. Thorpe is also a clever boxer and fairly good wrestler. He has starred in lacrosse, tennis, basketball and handball. Thorpe is six feet tall and weighs over 180 pounds, but is built so symmetrically that he looks small compared to the other noted all round champions. In the opinion of experts he is a perfect type of athlete. His build is a combination of a champion sprinter and weight man. He has powerful legs, and the muscles of his shoulders, arms and back are beautifully developed. After Thorpe won the decathlon King Gustave of Sweden called him over to the royal box and said, "You, sir, are the most wonderful athlete in the world."

DIAMOND NOTES

One-half dozen wins without a miss. It still looks like us.

Zeiser always did have something. He pitched remarkable ball, and showed that with a sufficiently good rest he can win the majority of his games. Owing to the recent additions to the staff, the "Big Three"—Wolfgang, Zeiser and Maybough, are now in better shape and we are now in a position to cop the pennant.

Terry McGovern is like the good hot stuff, improving with age. He did some great work yesterday on the corner and is hitting like Kelly.

Rube De Groff continues to bang 'em around in great style, getting another homer yesterday. When Rube was asked what he intends to do in the winter time he replied: "Come round and see me fellows, I'm going into the tobacco business." Too deep? Well Rube has made so many homers this season, eight in all, that his room is filled up with the ball. If he receives much more it will be tied outside.

Red Walter generally handed it to Lowell, but he got him yesterday.

Lynn here today in a double bill—

Worcester here tomorrow and Saturday. As Lowell, Worcester and Lynn are up with the angels and battling for the top rung, the Lowell fans

THE $10,000 STAKE
WAS WON BY ESTHER W.Walter Cox Sent the Bay Mare
Through in 2.11 Trot at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 18.—In a four-heat contest replete with thrills the bay mare Esther W., driven by the New England trainer, Walter Cox, yesterday afternoon won the $10,000 Paper Mills stake, for 2.11 trotters at the Grand Circuit races, at Recreation park. It was a clean cut victory, won on its merits, the rather high strung but phenomenally fast and game mare showing that she was clearly the best of the field. Bergen, the hope of the Geers' stable for the M. and M. at Detroit, next week, created a sensation by winning the first heat in the fastest time of the race, but after that he exhibited the manners which caused him to be distanced at Grand Rapids last week, and was not a factor in the three final miles.

Baden, on the strength of his victory last week over practically the same field, was favorite in the postling, selling for $50, Esther W. bringing $20, Marigold $20, Bergen $5, Miss Archdale $5 and the field $5.

Bergen drew the pole for the first heat, but Oakdale trotted around him on the turn and with The Wanderer in close attendance the trio raced out in front. Baden had left his feet at the start and his driver simply drove to beat the flag. Cox also went an easy heat with Esther W.

Bergen Wins in 2:08 1/2
In the drive through the stretch Bergen outtrotted Oakdale and won the heat in 2:08 1/2. Murphy also landing Marigold ahead of the gray. The hopes of the Geers' party were dashed at the start of the second heat, when the stallion left his feet going away. Oakdale again led, but this time Cox was close up with Esther W., and at the half went into the lead. Baden also trotted very fast, but broke in the stretch and Esther W. won easily. Oakdale beating Marigold for the place.

Cox took Esther W. out in front in the third heat with Oakdale, Miss Archdale and Marigold in close attendance. Baden was trotting very fast, but the leaders saw to it that he trotted a long mile. It was a long hard journey for the New Jersey stallion, but he was right at the side of Esther W. when she won the heat in 2:08 1/2.

Oakdale, a whirlwind in getting away from the wire, again took the lead in the final mile. Cox moving up to him on the backstretch. Baden again was compelled to travel a long overland route, but he looked dangerous entering the stretch. The long mile told on him, however, and at the distance stand he left his feet, taking a short run before getting back on his stride. He finished second to Esther W., but the judges penalized him for the run, placing him fifth, which put him outside the money in the summary.

Esther W. was purchased by Tom Murphy for Barlow Parolee of Lockhaven, Pa., during the Columbus meeting last summer for $8000. Her owner turned her over to Walter Cox last winter, and by driving her to victory yesterday the New England teamster landed the first $10,000 stake of his career. The driving club presented Cox with a valuable silver cup as a memento of his victory. Cox was complimented on all sides for the clever manner in which he handled the mare.

The 2.15 pace, which opened the program, was just a nice workout for Tom Murphy's Chamber of Commerce state candidate, Chimes Hal, who won in straight heats.

The 2.22 pace developed into a five-heat affair, finally being won by the bay stallion Warner Hall, driven by Jimmy Benson. Bradman, the favorite, was distanced in the final heat.

The feature of the program for today will be the $5000 Celery City purse for 2.10 pacers, in which Joe Patchen II., Sadie Hal, Knight Onward and other fast ones will start.

LOCAL BOY
IN TRAINING FOR THE BROCK-TON MARATHON

Lowell will have at least one sterling athlete to uphold her prestige in the coming Brockton Marathon race. He has already begun training for this and other important races. Filled with civic pride and eager to merit the approbation of the one hundred and six odd thousand inhabitants of Lowell whom he numbers among his friends, he has mapped out a plan of training that will insure his perfect physical condition when the sun peeks over the roofs crowning the Flats on the morning of the eventful day.

A spider weaving its web is no more persevering than he is in the performance of his training duties. Not even during the excessive heat of the past few weeks has he eased up in his severe training, so, although he cannot boast of one drop of Hellenic blood, he is in spirit at least a Spartan. Seldom an evening passes that his Adonis-like shadow is not reflected by the rays of the silvery moon as he flits along the roads about Billerica, Tyngsboro, Westford and other sedate communities too numerous to mention.

The mosquitoes who sojourn for the summer in those favored sections know him, and greet him. Besides the greetings of these innocent, happy little creatures, the salutations of bullfrogs, crickets and other tall grass inhabitants delight his left ear. The finer element in his nature, too, is charmed by their melodious voices in twilight anthems to the man in the moon. Oft and anon they desist in their serenading of this gentleman and unite their plaintive but sweet voices in a really encouraging him on to greater efforts in the running line.

He then plunges forward with renewed energy, imagining the croaking of the bullfrogs and the "peep, peep" of the crickets to be the deafening cheers of an Olympian gathering. "Iannes Kohlmainen has nothing on me when it comes to chasing the breezes for some ten or fifteen miles," thinks he as he recalls the recent Olympic performances of the speedy Finn. And the man from Finland must look out for his laurels in the near future—so say at least a number of Lowell athletic rascals—for that runner is due for a sound beating when he comes to the United States to engage in a series of races with our own sterling athlete, "Joe Joe" Cristo.

ATTENDANCE HAS DOUBLED AT LOWELL'S PLAYGROUNDS

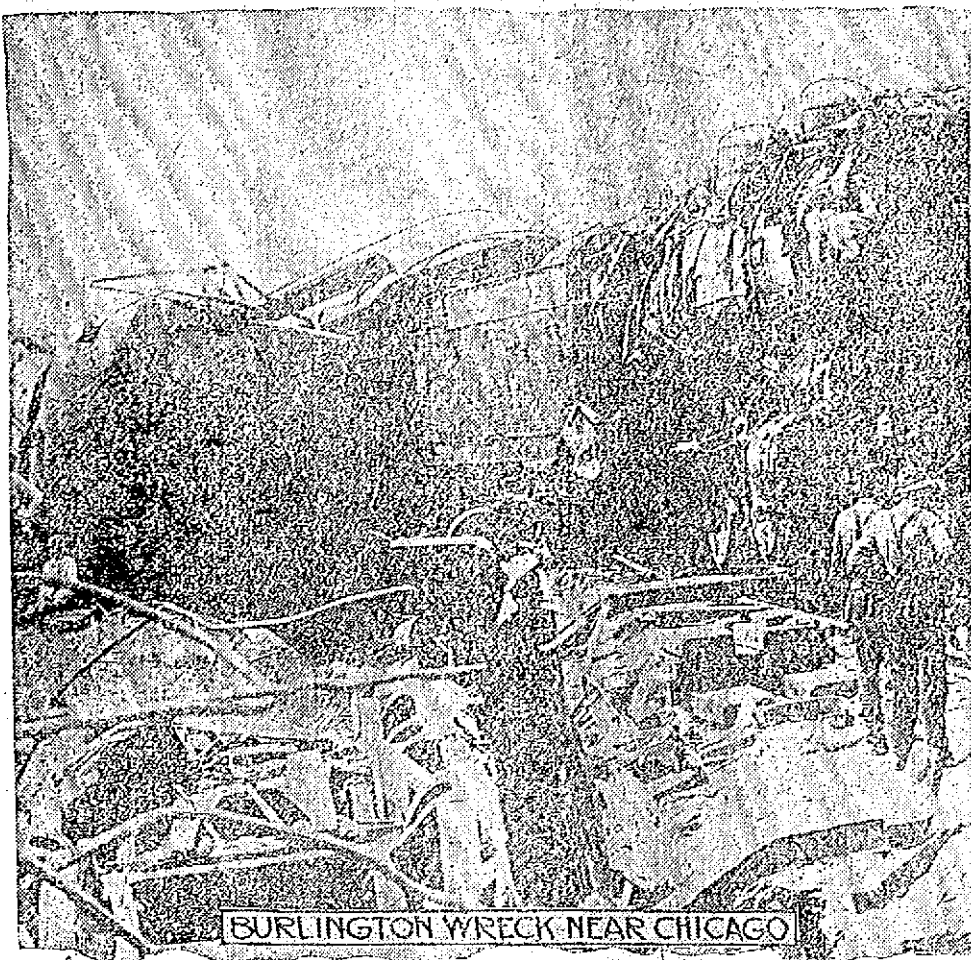

PLAYGROUNDS AT THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL

The Movement Has Grown and Interest is Being Displayed by the Public

Lowell's playgrounds opened Monday, July 8, and the attendance thus far has almost doubled that of the first two weeks of last year, showing that while less money has been appropriated for playground purposes than was appropriated last year, the movement has grown in popularity and there is greater demand for public interest in ness with which the different games are sought. If Tommy Jones isn't as big and sturdy as Billy Smith, Tommy Jones isn't relegated to a back seat to look on while Billy Smith is having all the fun. The supervisor or instructor is there to see to it that the rights of the weaker ones are protected, and he sees to it that Tommy Jones gets his

BURLINGTON WRECK NEAR CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 18.—Officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad in an official statement fix the responsibility for the accident at Western Springs on George Bronson, engineer of the mail train that ran into the Overland Limited, and on Frank Woodworth, the Overland Limited's flagman, who went back to protect the rear of the stalled train. Engineer Bronson stuck to his post and was one of the thirteen killed when his engine plowed through the rear sleeper of the limited and tumbled the cars into a confused heap, but Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, a woman telephone operator in a tower at Western Springs, admits that she misunderstood telephoned orders to her and that she held the Overland Limited when she had been told merely to report its passing, so that the train dispatcher could keep a freight train out of its way.

TORPEDO EXPLODED WOMEN IN PANIC

Terror Seized Crowd on Needham Car

BOSTON, July 18.—A loud explosion followed by a blinding flash of light startled the passengers on a crowded Needham car while it was passing under the railroad bridge nearly opposite 75 Spring street, West Roxbury, about 8:30 last evening. The passengers made a wild dash for the doors and several of the women fainted.

Mrs. Annie Riggott of 20 Gould street, West Roxbury, who was seated in the front of the car, became hysterical and fell into the aisle unconscious. It was nearly 15 minutes before she was revived. Mrs. Aggott was so weak from the shock that she was unable to walk and was taken in the ambulance of Division 17 to her home, where she was treated by Dr. Littlefield.

Another young woman fainted and was taken to the shop of Edmund Lowe, 75 Spring street, where she was revived with restoratives, after which she was able to return to the car. Several other women became hysterical, thinking shots were being fired at the car.

Supt. Webber of Division 1 hurried to the scene in an automobile. After examination of the track he expressed the opinion that the explosion had been caused by a railroad torpedo on the track.

Mrs. Lowe was looking out of her window at the time of the explosion and said that the neighborhood was absolutely deserted. Late last night the police had not discovered the culprits.

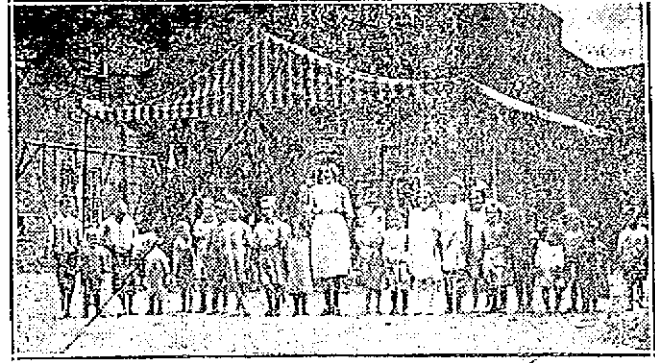

Traffic was blocked about 20 minutes. Hundreds of people on their way to the Charles river were attracted to the spot by the excitement. Fred Jepson was the motorman and John Nelson the conductor, both being old-time employees of the Elevated.

Five Views of Rube Marquard, the Great Sensation of the Baseball World

Rube Marquard is the sensation of the baseball world this season. Besides doing great work to put the Giants in the lead, Reuben has smashed all modern pitching records for victories won. The winning streak of Marquard is not only a season's sensation, but is the cause of a lot of arguments, some of which can be settled by reference to the records, others of which must be decided only in each fan's own opinion. As the Rube has approached the modern day records of Reulbach and Chesbro of fourteen straight wins the delvers into the dope began to dig deeper for more ancient marks for him to shoot at. They discovered that Radbourne had won eighteen straight for Providence in 1884, that Luby had won twenty for Chicago in 1890 and that McCormick in 1886 with Chicago had won twenty-four straight, and the flying Rube was told to keep on going if he wanted to win real fame. So far as known that mark of McCormick's is the premier feat in organized baseball. Whatever may be the arguments, there is no question that Richard de Marquis is one of the greatest twirlers of modern times, and the fact that he is a left hander makes his work all the more remarkable, for left handers are not noted for consistency.

THE PLAYGROUNDS, IN PAIGE STREET

playgrounds. A reporter and photographer for The Sun visited the playgrounds yesterday and took pictures at the Paige street and Greenhalge school playgrounds. One who has not visited the playgrounds and witnessed the children in full enjoyment of supervised play cannot appreciate the great benefit derived by the children and the eager-share of the fun. The weak and the strong must share alike and supervised play breeds a spirit of fairness that makes for good citizenship.

Miss Helen Hurd has charge of the girls at the Greenhalge school playground, and she is assisted by Miss Eugenie Frappier and Miss Elsa Brainer. More than 250 little girls have visited the Greenhalge school grounds in an afternoon and enjoyed to their hearts content the merry-go-round, the swings, slides, teeters and other playground apparatus. It is a beautiful sight to see the children at play and to know that they are not indulging in anything that is dangerous; nothing but good rigging, health making sport. At the Greenhalge school the use of the apparatus is divided, so to speak, between the boys and girls, the girls using in the afternoon what the boys used in the forenoon or vice versa.

A. C. Eveleth has charge of the boys at this playground, and he certainly has his hands full. He had about 250 boys under his wing yesterday and they were prancing around like colts in closed pasture. Mr. Eveleth is chock-full of enthusiasm on the playground question, and he knows how to handle the boys, too. He has two baseball leagues with three and four teams to each league, and the way they sweat the horsehide pill about these grounds is a caution.

"I wouldn't be surprised if I had some major team timber here," said young Mr. Eveleth to the reporter, and after witnessing the work of the boys for a time the reporter made up his mind that the supervisor was not over-estimating the ability of the lads as ball players. The boys were practicing then and were waiting for a couple of teams from the Allen street grounds, games between the two grounds having been scheduled for the afternoon. Mr. Eveleth confessed that he was a little shy on bats, baseballs and gloves, and if some kind soul would throw some over the fence they would be received with open arms.

The Paige street playground is not as pretentious as some of the others, but it means just as much to the children who go there as do the larger grounds. Miss Mabel Haggerty has charge of the Paige street ground and she takes great delight in instructing her little band in the proper line of play. A canopy is erected on the Paige street grounds to shelter the children from the sun, and though the grounds are small and undesirable in location, this little breathing place is greatly appreciated by the children in the vicinity and it has become so popular that Miss Haggerty, by right, should have an assistant.

THE RUSSELL WILL CASE NOT GOING TO GRAND JURY

District Attorney Higgins Has Decided Not to Take Action at the Present Time

BOSTON, July 18.—The Russell will case will not be presented at present to the Middlesex grand jury by District Attorney Higgins, in accordance with the request of Counsel Sharton, who is acting for "Dakota Dan" in this hearing now pending before G. A. A. Peavey, sitting as master in the case.

Mr. Sharton said that if the district attorney did not take up the matter with the grand jury he would make application to the foreman of the grand jury for a hearing. There was a clear intimation by Counsel Sharton that there was perjury in the case, and he wanted the matter sifted to the bottom.

The question now remains whether Counsel Sharton will go before the grand jury and ask that it hear his evidence, or wait the termination of the proceedings.

Mr. Higgins points out in his letter that the matter is now being heard before a master appointed by the supreme court, and that the rights of all the parties will be fully protected. He says that if in the course of the hearing the master or the court should be of opinion that there is perjury, and the matter is called to his attention, he will present the facts to the grand jury. Mr. Higgins declares that it would not be fair to either side at this time to take this matter before the grand jury, as it might have a tendency to prejudice one side.

Objects to Expense
The district attorney says that the expense of proving the identity of the Russell "chair" ought not to fall on Middlesex county. He says this is a matter that should be borne by the parties to the controversy. Just how many persons will be involved in this perjury charge cannot be stated, but it is likely that a number will be called to the grand jury at some stage of the proceedings, according to the statements made. "Dakota Dan" said he was waiting to waive immunity and go to court before the grand jury.

In the hearing yesterday before Master Peavey, Counsel Sharton brought out the fact that Fresno Dan has several attorneys in his employ out in Fresno, Cal. To G. W. Cartwright of Fresno he has paid $200, and to William Quinn of that city he has paid the sum of $1500.

Agreed to Pay Eighth
Fresno Dan yesterday testified that he had an arrangement with the two Fresno attorneys that in case there was no contest he was to pay one-eighth of his share to the attorneys, and if there should be a contest the lawyers were to have one-third.

Fresno Dan said: "When I came east I found out that there would be no contest over me being the lawful heir."

When counsel told him that his lawyers were paid quite a sum, he said: "The estate paid that money."

Fresno Dan was asked how he happened to engage the attorneys, and he said: "I went to the police station in Fresno and was there put in touch with an attorney by the police."

There was no afternoon session of the hearing.

GREAT BRITAIN'S PROTEST AGAINST THE CANAL BILL

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Great Britain's formal protest against the Panama canal bill, now in the senate, was presented to Secretary Knox today by A. Mitchell Innes, charge of the British embassy. Secretary Knox will send it at once to President Taft, who will probably transmit it to congress with a special message.

SUIT IS ENTERED AGAINST THE OFFICERS OF THREE LABOR UNIONS

BOSTON, July 18.—An unusual situation with regard to the employment of labor and strikes of union laborers is brought to light through the filing of a bill in equity in the office of the superior court yesterday by Charles B. Matthews of this city. The respondents are L. J. Cannon, business agent of the Bricklayers' union; Patrick J. Walsh of the Stone Masons' union, No. 9 and John Doe of the Laborers and Road Carriers' union.

Matthews says he is the owner of land 3, 5, 7 and 9 Templeton street, and 180 and 182 Dorchester avenue. He says he is erecting a five-story apartment on one of the lots, and that he entered into contracts with a person named Eubank and another named Dixon to furnish laborers.

Work was being done in a satisfactory manner until 11:30 o'clock Monday morning. Without warning, he says, the respondents came to the building and called the workmen from their jobs. He says that there has been no controversy between him or contractors and the laborers as to wages or working hours.

Mrs. Ellis offered a reward of $100, and Mounted Patrolman Scott was detailed to sweep the walks along Bellevue avenue and the Ocean drive. While at work he stopped at the home of his sister, Mrs. David Stewart, whose husband is caretaker of the Nancy Hazard estate on Ocean avenue.

Mrs. Stewart told him the jewel had been found by her son, David P. Stewart, aged 13, last Sunday morning on the Ocean drive in front of the Newport Fishing club.

GLIDDEN TOUR

DETROIT PEOPLE SAY IT SHOULD START EARLIER

Objections made in Detroit to the present assignment of dates for the Glidden tour will probably have no effect on the arrangements for this event. The A. A. A. originally selected October 3 for the start from Detroit, and this until recently appeared to be satisfactory to those in that city. Then it was objected that October 3 had been selected because it was believed that President Taft and Speaker Clark would be there for the National Road Congress. This convention, however, has been awarded elsewhere. Now the Detroiters want to have the tour start any time after the close of the State fair, on September 21, and as near that date as possible.

At the A. A. A. headquarters in New York yesterday it was said that it wouldn't be handy at all to change the date. Many matters have to be attended to, in the way of arrangements on the line of the tour, and maps and other things have to be got out, so that having the tour start on October 3 doesn't leave any too much margin. An attempt to have it start earlier would make it impossible to attend properly to all the needed details.

A meeting was held yesterday by the special committee in charge of the tour to decide on the pathfinder car. Several concerns are understood to be after the privilege of supplying the pathfinder, in view of the publicity that accompanies this. The committee which is made up of Col. F. M. Joyce, Minneapolis; Lewis R. Spence, Boston; William E. Metzger, Detroit; John A. Wilson, Franklin, Pa., and W. E. Meyer, Des Moines, was not able to come to a decision, because of some small details that were overlooked in making up the specifications. The choice will not be announced for a few days.

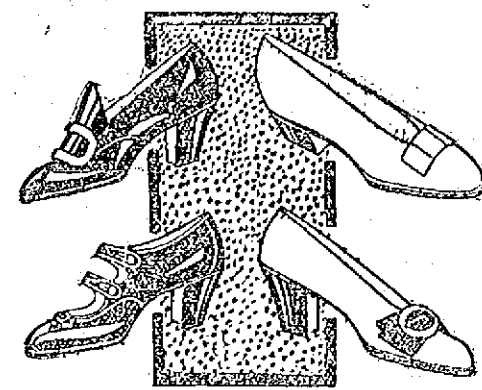

Definite information about the route, other than it will start at Detroit and run through Memphis to New Orleans, is not yet forthcoming. By what route these three points will be connected will not be made known until after the pathfinder completes its trip. The Detroiters are anxious to make Indianapolis a Sunday stop and it is not improbable the journey will be laid out that way. The pathfinder car is due to start from Detroit on July 23, the second day of the Cadillac celebration. Many thousands of motorists will be in town then and the car should set a great record.

THE $700,000 LOAN RENEWED BY BANK

Bonds Signed by All Members of the Municipal Council Except Alderman Barrett

Lowell's $700,000 loan has been renewed by the First National bank of Boston and the bonds have been signed by four members of the municipal council. Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett has not signed the bonds and says he does not intend to. The renewal of the note is in accordance with an order passed at a recent meeting of the municipal council. Mr. Barrett was in Baltimore at the time that the order was adopted by the council.

In his argument in the Sittes hearing, so-called, Mr. Barrett said that the commissioner who would vote to apply any part of the $700,000 to the payment of the temporary loan for 1911 would be doing an illegal act; an act that would not only disqualify him for office but would also subject him to a fine of $1000. Mr. Barrett contends that money borrowed in anticipation of taxes cannot be used for any purpose other than to defray the current expenses of the year in which it is borrowed, and, pursuing that line of reasoning, the $700,000 borrowed in anticipation of the taxes of 1912 could not legally be applied to the temporary loan of 1911.

There are others, and some are lawyers, who differ with Mr. Barrett, and it is very evident that his colleagues on the board do not agree with him lest they would not have voted to renew the $700,000 loan.

In conversation today with the city hall reporter for The Sun, Mr. Barrett said he was not aware that the $700,000 loan had been renewed. Members of the municipal council have had several conferences with Cashier Olson of the First National bank of Boston before and since the council voted to borrow the $700,000.

Commissioner Barrett went to Boston last week with other members of the municipal council. They went to Boston in Commissioner Brown's unlettered automobile and smashed into the tail end of a taxi in Boston, but that little run in was not what prevented Mr. Barrett from conferring with the bank officials as did his brother members. He said he had talked with Mr. Olson before and had had it out with him.

"Yes, I went to Boston in the automobile, simply for the sake of the ride," said Mr. Barrett, "I remained outside and ate peaches and smoked cigars while the others were in the bank. I was not apprised as to the result of their conference and if the loan has been renewed it is news to me."

"Is it necessary that you should sign the bonds in order to make valid the transaction?" asked the reporter.

"No, I believe the signatures of four members are sufficient," said Mr. Barrett.

Another Boston Conference

Members of the municipal council and City Treasurer Sittes will go to Boston within a few days to confer with a special recess committee of the legislature who are considering recommendations for a legislative act drawn by Charles F. Gettemy, director of the bureau of statistics, relative to the indebtedness of cities and towns of the commonwealth. This committee has already held several sessions with treasurers of different cities in order to get their views as to Chief Gettemy's recommendations. These recommendations were the result of a special investigation made by the state bureau into the municipal debt situation of the state in pursuance of the provisions of chap. 142 of the Acts and Resolves of 1911.

The investigation included loans made in anticipation of taxes, the amount and character of indebtedness incurred with and without the debt limit, and the amount on debt outstanding against which no sinking funds are being accumulated or for the extinguishment of which no annual payments of principal have been provided in accordance with law. Chief Gettemy's report of the investigation and his recommendations for new legislation are interesting.

Mr. Gettemy's Recommendations

The report of Director Gettemy was very thorough. Of the 351 cities and towns of the state, 25 were actually indebted by special agents of his bureau, the remaining 23 being small towns having no debt or whose financial transactions were so simple that essential facts were obtainable by mail. The report says that a complete revision of the law relating to municipal indebtedness is imperative if it is desired to protect the disclosed ignorance of conditions by the investigation. There is at least one city that Mr. Gettemy allows does not need any revision of the law, and that city is Springfield. Mr. Gettemy looks upon Springfield as an authority on municipal finance and one of the ablest, if not the very ablest, city treasurer in Massachusetts.

Mr. Gettemy's recommendations are, briefly, as follows:

- (1) That incurrence of fixed debt for current expenses be no longer permitted.
- (2) That a limit be placed upon the amount that may be borrowed in anticipation of revenue.
- (3) That a uniform penalty be imposed on overdue taxes.
- (4) That authority to establish sinking funds be repealed and all cities and towns be required to provide for payment of funded debt by the serial method.
- (5) That the limit on the amount that may be raised by taxation for municipal purposes be raised or abolished.
- (6) That the bureau of statistics be furnished with means necessary to enable it to keep data it now gathers up to date and to issue its reports on municipal finances more promptly.

Expert Rex's Report

Anything having to do with municipal financial methods travels by express and when conditions are being thrashed out in one city, other cities sit up and take notice. In Commissioner of Finance Donnelly's report the report of the expert accountant, Geo. M. Rex, was incorporated and since then several cities, including no less than Philadelphia, have asked for copies of Mr. Donnelly's report. The Municipal Journal of July 4th has quite an article on Lowell's finance and devotes nearly a page to the recommendation of Expert Accountant Rex.

MAN STOLE BICYCLE AND WAS ARRESTED

He Was Caught by Lieut. Martin Maher

Lieut. Martin Maher arrested Charles Drown of Haverhill in Middlesex street yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having stolen a bicycle, and after being brought to the police station and put through a rigid cross-examination he confessed that he had stolen the bicycle in Tilton, N. H.

Lieut. Maher was passing through Middlesex street when his attention was attracted to the man who was trying to sell the machine to a second hand dealer. The officer questioned Drown and learned that the latter wanted to dispose of the wheel for $5. The man said that the bicycle belonged to him and that he resided at 125 15th street in this city, but an investigation showed that there is no such a number on the street.

Finally after attempting to answer a cross fire of questions he broke down and confessed that his name was Charles Drown, 30 years of age, and resided in Haverhill. He said he went through New Hampshire in search of work and stole the bicycle at Tilton and came to this city to dispose of it.

Drown was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a bicycle valued at $25 from an unknown person and entered a plea of guilty, but at the request of Deputy Downey the case was continued until tomorrow morning in order that the police may make further investigation.

NO BALL GAME TODAY

Double Header Called Off on Account of Rain

Terry McGovern and his terrors from Lynn came to Lowell this morning with the determination of getting back at the Grays for the humiliating whitewashing that they received from the champs at their burg yesterday. A double header was scheduled between the two teams, but the weather man was not consulted and hence he got a little offended, and just for that the clouds burst and rain descended heavily upon the diamond, and saturated the place. Manager Gray was desirous of playing off one game if possible and held the men at the edge until all chances of a contest were snuffed. The game was called off at 1:35. The team is going at such a fast clip at the present time that he would like to have accommodated Terry this afternoon and sent his heroes back to the coast, sorry they came.

Tomorrow, Lowell will meet Worcester at Spalding park and will entertain the same Busters on Saturday and the local men are confident that they will move up considerably as a result of their conflicts with Berkley's crew.

EASIER TENDENCY

OVERTOOK THE MARKET IN THE FINAL HOUR

It Closed Steady and Easier—A Point Decline in Consolidated Gas—Other Reactions Were Only Fractional

NEW YORK, July 18.—Nominal price changes were registered at the opening of today's stock market. Gains were the rule although in no important instances did they exceed fractions. Among the specialties Republic Iron and Biscuit were prominent for one point gains.

Activity increased in the course of the first hour. Standard stocks vacillating slightly.

Yesterday's late buying was renewed with some moderation in the early stages of today's stock market. Active issues opened with fractional gains but later showed more or less hesitation. Steel and Amalgamated were most active, while General Electric distinguished among the specialties, its rise being coincident with further rumors of a stock dividend.

Trading became duller during the noon hour with practically no price changes except a one point advance in Amalgamated and a two point decline in Virginia Iron.

MURDERER IS A SUICIDE

SWARTZ IS FOUND DEAD

He Left a Note Saying He Killed the Connors Girl and Was Insane

NEW YORK, July 18.—The body of Nathan Swartz, whose father informed the police that his son was the slayer of 12-year-old Julia Connors, was found this morning on the fourth floor of a tenement house on Christie street. Swartz had committed suicide by inhaling gas. The body was identified by Detective Brennan.

Swartz had hired the room eight days ago under the name of Max Hirschowitz from Max Kaplan. Early today Kaplan smelled gas. On investigation he found Swartz in bed with the end of a gas tube that ran from the middle of the ceiling tied to his mouth. Examination by a hospital physician showed the man was dead.

Written in lead pencil on his collar were the words:

"I am guilty and insane. Caused by the beautiful makeup of women, which has made me passionate."

There were several pieces of newspaper lying around and on one of these was written the sentence: "I was sorry the minute after I did it. So don't cry for me."

A letter was found addressed to Swartz's mother, in which he confessed his guilt and told her not to bury her eyes out. Later Phillip Swartz, a brother of the slayer of the Connors girl, identified the dead man as his brother.

Only a few days ago Swartz's father informed the police that his son had killed him that he had killed the little girl. The father told Swartz that he had better go out and commit suicide.

The house in which Swartz took his life is next door to one in which he lived for more than a year and which he left two years ago to go back to his parents.

At that time he posed as a prize fighter and was well known in the neighborhood, yet on his return eight days ago he was unrecognized. That he had followed with intense interest the stories printed in the newspapers about his crime was made plain by the piles of newspapers found in his room. Before he lay down in his bed with the end of the gas tube in his mouth he spread these papers around him, so that he could see pictures of himself and of his victim on all sides.

MANY OUTINGS HELD TODAY

LOWELL PEOPLE AT BEACHES

Employees of A. G. Pollard Co.,
Bon Marche and J. F. Saunders
Given Day Off

This is outing day for the clerks of the A. G. Pollard Co. and the Bon Marche employees, and despite the inclement weather, all took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy the beach breezes and all the attractions of Nantasket.

Both stores were closed all day, the management assisting in every way in making the outings as successful and enjoyable as possible.

The employees of the Pollard Co. went directly to the Boston & Maine depot at 8 o'clock this morning and boarded a special train of three coaches, which left the depot at 8:15 o'clock. The train traveled as an extra and went directly to Boston, without any stops. Upon arriving at the Hub the clerks took the boat at Rowe's wharf and sailed to Nantasket, arriving there about noon. The first number on the program was dinner and all sat down to a most appetizing repast. Later in the day many took a dip in the surf, while others took in the many attractions along the boulevard.

The Bon Marche employees assembled at the store in Merrimack street shortly after 8 o'clock and boarded a special electric for the Middlesex street depot. There they had two special coaches attached to the regular 8:59 train. When Boston was reached the Lowell party went to the wharf and took the boat to the beach and proceeded to the hotel and enjoyed an excellent dinner that satisfied the appetites aroused by the exhilarating sea air. After the dinner, many proceeded to take in the different amusements of the resort, while others went bathing.

Both parties will return by train this evening.

Fishing Party

Charlie West, the well known street railway man who annually conducts a fishing trip to Swampscott, held forth today, and at 3:45 this morning his party left Dracut Centre in a special electric for the fishing pond.

ATTEMPT TO KILL TAFT DENIED BY OFFICIALS

Story That a Bomb Wrapped in Package Was Received at the White House

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A circumstantial story of an attempt on the life of President Taft is being denied vigorously early today by White House officials and Chief Wilkie of the secret service.

It was said that a bomb wrapped in a package was received late yesterday at the executive offices and placed upon the desk of Sherman Allen, one of the White House assistant secretaries who has just been appointed assistant secretary of the treasury. The package was of course intended for the president but packages and letters never reach him without first passing through the hands of a secretary and Mr. Allen opened it.

The report was that as Mr. Allen unwrapped the package he discovered an infernal machine, said to have been charged with dynamite and with fuse a-sputtering, which he quickly extinguished with his hands.

It has always been the policy of the secret service and White House officers to deny publicity to any incident which savors of an attempt at violence upon the president. Though the story, as published, is very circumstantial, it is pronounced as wholly unfounded.

GOV. WILSON

WILL SUBMIT TENTATIVE SLATE TODAY

SEA GIRL, N. J., July 18.—Beyond a tentative slate for the personnel of the campaign committee that will manage the democratic presidential campaign, Gov. Wilson said today that he would submit no program to National Chairman McCombs and the nine leaders who were expected to direct the coming campaign.

"Our conference will be exclusively on organization," said the governor. "Of course we will first name the campaign committee. Then if we have time we will go into elaboration and details of the campaign management. The gentlemen whom I have invited are veteran campaigners and know what is required to win. I want to get their views and will be guided largely by them."

LAWYER NICHOLS

PRINCIPAL WITNESS IN ALLEGED CORRUPTION CASE

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 18.—The committee of the South Carolina legislature which is investigating charges of political corruption and which recently at Augusta, Ga., heard sensational testimony as to the governor's pardon record, met here today. S. J. Nichols was announced as the principal witness.

Nichols is the Spartanburg attorney, who, according to Detective Reed, was Gov. Bleas' agent in the purchase of a pardon for a prisoner.

C. P. Smith, the attorney who was represented as being associated with Nichols in his efforts to secure the pardon, also will testify today.

Announcement was made that neither Reed nor Thomas Fisher, the Atlanta lawyer, will appear before the committee in this state. They say they are afraid of the governor. They consent to appear before the investigators in any city in a nearby state.

ROOSEVELT MAN

ASKS THAT ANOTHER SENATORIAL PRIMARY BE HELD

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Representative Norris of Nebraska, progressive republican and a Roosevelt supporter, in a letter sent today to John L. Kennedy, chairman of the Nebraska state republican committee, asks for another senatorial primary in which his republicanism is to be tried and a new set of instructions be voted to candidates for Roosevelt and Taft electors. He proposes that electors for both sides stand by the result.

Mr. Norris made the proposal in reply to the criticism in his state and published demands that he support President Taft or get off the republican ticket.

"I am a believer in the recall," said Mr. Norris in his letter. "I am willing that it should be applied to me and if since my nomination my course in refusing to recognize Mr. Taft as the republican nominee is unsatisfactory to the republicans who nominated me I am not only willing but I believe it is my duty to withdraw."

Mr. Norris defeated Norris Brown in the primary for senator.

STRICT RULES

FOR CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE IN MINNESOTA

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—Candidates for office under the Minnesota corrupt practices act just passed cannot even dictate political letters to their stenographers unless they first make arrangements for campaign committees, according to a ruling made yesterday by Attorney-General Smith. This construction of the new act seems absurd, Smith admitted, but is justifiable by its text.

TO EMBARRASS CHANCELLOR GEORGE

It looks as if the employers in England are to make trouble for the government in the application of the new insurance law that has been put into effect. The employers are assessed a certain small amount weekly to help keep up the insurance of the employees, and in order to cover this expense many employers have reduced the wages. This has already led to a strike on the Liverpool docks, and England of late has had too many strikes. A number of business concerns have combined to block the enforcement of the law by neglecting its provisions and thus causing so many prosecutions that the court dockets will be blocked. The Tories not only in parliament but all through the country are trying hard to embarrass the ministry and cause its downfall. They claim that this insurance law was rushed through without proper discussion, and that it is unjust in its provisions. Any break-down of the law might cause the overthrow of the ministry although this is not likely as the government has already weathered many more serious storms.

THE NEW BEDFORD STRIKE

New Bedford is now in the throes of a great mill strike, twelve of its big mills having shut down. The cause of the strike is the refusal of these companies to abolish the grading system against which the operatives have kept up an agitation for some time. The best thing the mills can do is to settle the matter as soon as possible so that they may not lose their skilled help and have to surrender into the bargain. Lowell and other cities want skilled mill operatives such as the New Bedford strikers and will doubtless secure many of the New Bedford strikers if the struggle be prolonged.

The supreme court of this state recently decided a test case brought at Clinton, in favor of the mills. The weavers then to prevent the system becoming permanent and being extended voted to strike and were followed by other crafts. The payroll of the mills now closed is $100,000 and the number of operatives idle about 13,000.

NO BACHELORS NEED APPLY

Governor Foss takes the stand that a candidate for governor should be married or in other words that he should be a family man. While there is no constitutional bar to the bachelor, we are inclined to agree with the governor although the fact that a man is married is but a small part of the qualifications of a good candidate for governor. The bachelors ignore the women, and if the ladies could vote there is no doubt that every bachelor of a certain age would get a choice between paying a per capita tax and selecting a life partner. We do not believe, however, that the governor's dictum will cause many bachelors to hasten into the matrimonial market. Let it be understood, however, that when it comes to seeking high political office no bachelor need apply.

THE CANAL QUESTION

England has the best of the argument in the Panama canal matter. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty binds this country to treat the ships of all nations alike in the administration of the canal. Some senators at Washington contend that the phrase "all nations" in this connection does not include the United States. Is not this country a nation? Had the phrase in the treaty read, "All other nations" the senators would have good ground on which to base their arguments. At present they have none. English diplomats with their usual shrewdness and foresight fooled the Americans in this case, and it is useless to haggle over the matter. Even if submitted to The Hague or any other tribunal, only one conclusion is possible.

PLACING THE RESPONSIBILITY

When a railroad company states that a terrible accident upon its lines was due to drunkenness on the part of the engineer, that does not excuse the company nor relieve it from its responsibility. It should not have an engineer who would get drunk. Besides it should adopt some means of providing against the weakness of the human factor. The accident on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road the other day in which thirteen lives were lost is found to have been due to mistakes on the part of a flagman and an engineer. This is another case in which the company seeks to hide behind an employee who failed in his duty. That again is no excuse. The people want a more positive arrangement for their protection.

REPAIR THE DANGER SPOTS

Our street commissioner should do something to do away with the "bumps and the jounces" so common in our streets and so ruinous to automobiles. There are a great many holes in some streets and particularly in some of the asphalt streets that should be repaired. They are really dangerous because they cannot always be noticed until too late to avoid them. Another serious annoyance to motorists is the raised crossing with a small trench on either side and over which autos bump with a force almost as bad as a slight collision. Why not remedy some of these defects in our principal streets?

CIGARETTE SMOKING

Some young men apparently think it is smart to smoke cigarettes on the street. We believe it is a nasty habit that should not be indulged by any self-respecting young man. It is not at all an agreeable spectacle to see a lot of young men after leaving a hall or sometimes after leaving a church lighting their cigarettes and smoking as they walk along the streets. We would advise them to drop this habit, not only for their own good, but out of respect for those who have to use the sidewalks and who naturally dislike to inhale the cigarette smoke issuing from the mouths of others.

TAFT TO KEEP MUM

So President Taft is not to take the stump in his own behalf in this campaign. That is the wisest course. As he will be defeated anyhow it would be unwise for him to invite attack and take the chances of being worsted in combat. The "Terrible Teddy" will be around with his war paint on, calling everybody bad names and saying he has been robbed. As Taft has not a united party behind him he could gain nothing by going on the stump anyhow.

The murder of a New York gambler who was about to peach on his confederates was apparently committed in order to prevent him giving testimony before the district attorney. The New York police are good at ferreting out murders; but as it is alleged that some of themselves are implicated in this murder, it remains to be seen just who the guilty parties are.

FOOLISH SEASON

Yachting Fool.

SEEN AND HEARD

Ed. Hathaway, the well known sign painter is exhibiting a freak caterpillar found in a garden on Centralville hill. The insect resembles a miniature porcupine for standing out upon its back, pointing in all directions are a number of small white quill-like cells from which myriads of little flies emanate. Ed. carries the insect in a bottle lest some skeptical one believe that he was seeing things, as he describes his peculiar find.

And Senator Grimes has cast his hat into the ring. What an inspiration his beautiful "Galways" will be for the cartoonists, while what an opportunity the campaign song-writers will have to revive the famous old ditty about his venerable namesake with the buttons down back.

Some one evidently has malicious designs upon Commissioner Barrett. First he was accused of pouring river water into the reservoir and more recently his reservoir was reported to have caved in. Both reports happily being without foundation.

Don't forget, there are some free hand concerts yet to come.

It's all well enough, as the editor has truly remarked, to learn how to swim, but it is equally important to know when to swim. For many a good swimmer has succumbed to cramps for going into the water when over-heated or too soon after a hearty meal. Remember also the first thing to do upon entering the water is, what the boys call to "dunk under," or in other words thoroughly wet the head.

Over 1000 people visited the reservoir job on Centralville hill, Sunday, looking for the wall that had caved in according to a published report and they went away with decided opinions as to the veracity of the publication which misled them. That part of the work is being done by F. A. Barbour & Co., recognized as among the leading water works engineers in the country, and not by Commissioner Barrett's department, and if the walls should cave in, the Barbour company and not the water works department would be responsible.

GOOD OLD SOULS

My dame is old and I am old,
We're dazed and dim and dull and cold;
But what care I and what cares she?
We're happy folk whatever be.

Time was when she was young and gay,
Would snicker and smile and dance away;
Though dancing does not now agree,
We jog on happy, I and she.

And I was once a lively boy,
Would sing my song and pipe for joy;
No more of piping now for me,
Yet all our days are harmony.

We do not bill and coo and kiss;
A loving hug would come amiss;
To old rheumatic bones, you see;
But that is nought to her and me.

In summer, when the sun is hot,
We tiddle round our garden plot;
And hark a bit and watch the bee;
It hums for joy and so do we.

And when the winter snows and blows,
We sit beside the fire and dose;
Or laugh and chat and drink our tea.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Tells How She Keeps Her Health—Happiness For Those Who Take Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."

—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

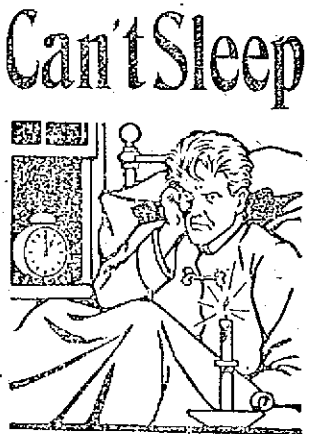

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for women's ills known.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Those who have witnessed this week's performance at the Merrimack Square Theatre pronounce it one of the most entertaining summer attractions seen locally in some time. Edgar Foreman and Company in the presentation of the comedy playlet, "A Duel of Hearts," is especially pleasing and De Grant and MacClenahan, known as "Those Comedy Boys," are most amusing in their original sketch in which new comedy is cleverly given. This pair has the happy faculty of "putting things over" in a manner that meets with the approval of all. Their weeks run here will make them unusually popular with the patrons. Max Holden gives a clever exhibition of shadowgraphing that will appeal strongly to the children and younger folk. Miss Alice Bagley is being heard in the latest and best illustrated songs, and the photo-plays for the last three days of the week are again one of the bright features on the bill. They include some views that are instructive as well as entertaining. It's always cool and comfortable here.

PICKEREL CATCH

BIG ONE WAS LANDED BY GEORGE F. PEARSON

The longest pickerel catch of the year at Long-Sought-For pond, in Westford, was made yesterday, by George F. Pearson, the well known inventor whose home is in Grace street. Mr. Pearson went out in the late forenoon, fished for an hour or more without receiving more than the merest nibble, but like all faithful disciples of the Walton he stuck to it and at about 2 o'clock a two pound pickerel went to the hook with a school boy's appetite for apple sauce. George had just filled his pipe at the time and was thinking out an invention for the quick destruction of gypsy and brown-tail moths when the two-pounder grabbed the hook. He had a lively scrap on his hands for a few minutes but he landed his prize all right and he never left the spot where his dory was anchored until he had taken it pickerel aboard and at least a dozen of them weighed in the vicinity of two pounds apiece. Mr. Pearson is a fisherman from the word go and he wound up yesterday's performance by corraling a seventy-eight pound turtle, the largest ever captured at Long-Sought-For. "Pete" Patterson and "Tom" Hoban have been fishing at this pond all summer and six pickerel is the biggest catch they have made in any one day. "Pete" watched George Pearson as he pulled in the fish "hand over fist" and, with a deep sigh, remarked that George must have struck a "school of 'em." Mr. Pearson was a guest at Camp Dawson and Messrs. Hoban and Patterson cannot understand why the pickerel should give the "natives" the go-by and welcome the stranger.

HOW TO ABSORB AN UNLOVELY COMPLEXION

The face which is admired for its beauty must have a satin-smooth skin, pink and white and youthful looking. The only thing I know of that can make such a complexion out of an aged, faded, or discolored one—I mean a natural, not a painted complexion—is ordinary mercurized wax. This remarkable substance literally absorbs the unsightly cuticle, a little each day, the clear, healthy, girlish skin beneath gradually peeping out until within a week or so it is wholly in evidence. Of course such blemishes as freckles, moth patches, liver spots, blotches and pimples are discarded with the old skin. If you will procure an ounce of mercurized wax at the drug store, use like cold cream every night, washing this off mornings, you'll find it a veritable wonder-worker. Another valuable natural treatment is a wash lotion to remove wrinkles which can be easily prepared. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered salicylic in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Rub the face in this and you'll find it "works like magic."

A LITTLE NONSENSE

INVESTIGATING.
Reddy, the Yegg-You write burglar insurance, don't you?
Agent—Certainly, sir.
Reddy—What I want to know is do you insure 'em against death an' accidents only or do you insure 'em against convictions also?

WHAT A STRANGE IDEA.
"I support you have something laid up for a rainy day."
"Sure! I've a lot of things ready to take when it comes."

TOO MUCH BASEBALL.
"Doctor, I'm all run down and extremely nervous. Can you save me?"
"Surely my friend; surely. Yours is a common ailment just now. You are simply reading more baseball news than you can assimilate."

DOWN AT THE CLUB.
"Jenkins never comes to the club but he acts the fool."
"He believes in the saying:
When in Rome do as the Romans do."

SAME KIND OF TALK.
"Who was that man who was talking so loudly just now?"
